CORREGIDOR SIEGE ENDS IN SURRENDER

Fall of Fortress Officially Announced by Washington—Four Other Forts at Entrance to Manila Bay Give Up—Defenders Said to Have Numbered 7,000

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 6 (AP).—Corregidor and the other fortified islands in Manila Harbor surrendered today, it was officialy announced.

Besides the fortified rock that is Corregidor, the United States forts which had held out in the entrance to Manila Bay are Fort Mills, Fort Hughes, Fort Drum and Fort Frank.

The end came on the second day of the final Japanese assault, launched at midnight Tuesday, Manila time, with landings from Bataan Peninsula after Corregidor particularly of the American forts had been pounded again and again by Japanese big guns and aerial bombs.

Corregidor alone had 300 air raids since December 29 when thirty-five Japanese bombers attacked for three hours.

FIGHTING HAS CEASED

The War Department announced that fighting had ceased on Corregidor and terms were being arranged for the capitulation of the island forts in Manila Bay.

The War Department communique on the military situation as of 1:15 a.m., P.D.T., said:

"1. Phillippine theatre: The War Department has received a message from Corregidor advising that resistance of our troops has been overcome. Fighting has ceased and terms are being arranged covering the capitulation of the island forts in Manila Bay.

"2. There is nothing to report from other areas."

Besides Corregidor, Forts Drum, Frank and Hughes, have been holding out against the Japanese under a withering bombardment from land and air.

Officials gave no indication of when the fighting ended.

EARLIER REPORTS

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP).—The United States Army announced tonight that the Japanese had begun a "landing attack" on Corregidor, and Washington feared that the resistance of the defenders, lacking

LAUNCH DRIVE AGAINST NAZIS

Russians Take Offensive Against Three Key Bases Of Germans

MOSCOW, May 5 (AP).—Stealing the jump on Hitler, hundreds of thousands of Russian soldiers, tanks and planes smashed head-on today at three key German bases from which it was believed the Nazi Fuehrer was planning his Spring or Summer drive.

Under command of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, the first Russian general to turn back the German military machine with the recapture of Rostov last November, the Red Army struck at Kharkov, Kursk and Taganrog, in the strongest Nazi-held section of the long battle line.

Action also stepped up on the northern sectors, particularly the hard-fought Kalinin area northwest of Moscow. The army newspaper Red Star said the Germans were routed from one position in the Kalinin front, leaving 400 dead after a bayonet charge.

NOTHING OF IMPORTANCE

Tonight's Soviet communique said merely that "nothing of importance" took place at the front during the day.

A supplement credited guerrillas operating on the Kalinin front with killing 1,500 Germans in three days. Farther up the front a Red Army unit before Leningrad was reported to have advanced to a new position then beat off repeated German counter-attacks.

In a letter to Stalin, guerrillas of the Orel front reported that in six months they killed 5,000 Germans, wrecked sixteen Nazi troop trains, destroyed 340 trucks, twenty-nine planes and thirty-three tanks, blew up 100 bridges and liberated 345 populated places.

HAD NO COMMENT

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP).—President Roosevelt preferred to withhold comment today on the British occupation of the strategic French island of Madagascar, but he did tell a press conference he thought French cruisers once reported heading for the Indian Ocean island apparently had started out from their base in the morning and returned the same night.

CAUSE VAST DESTRUCTION

Chinese Guerrillas Raid Fifteen Japanese-Occupied Cities

CHUNGKING, China, May 5 (AP).—The biggest co-ordinated Chinese guerrilla swoop of the war has been going on for the past two weeks, the fighters raiding fifteen Japanese-occupied cities and causing vast destruction, the Chinese Central News Agency reported today.

The guerrillas had long been operating on the fringe of these towns but to no such extent as that reported by the agency, which said they crept into Shanghai, Nanking, Hangchow, Nanchang, Ninpo, Wuhu, Amoy and other places and set off numerous explosions.

Japanese naval headquarters, the electric power plant and the puppet Nanking regime's Federal Reserve Bank in Shanghai were reported bombed, while land and water communications were blocked.

SEVERE DAMAGE DONE

Huge fires were set in Nanking, the agency said, and stretches of the Nanking-Wuhu Railway were destroyed, and highway bridges and telegraph poles blown up.

Loyal Chinese inside the cities cooperated with the guerrillas by starting fires and throwing bombs.

On the night of April 20, when the raids began, Chinese troops, preceded by plainclothesmen, entered Hangchow and so alarmed the Japa-

DIRECT HIT MADE ON BIG WARSHIP

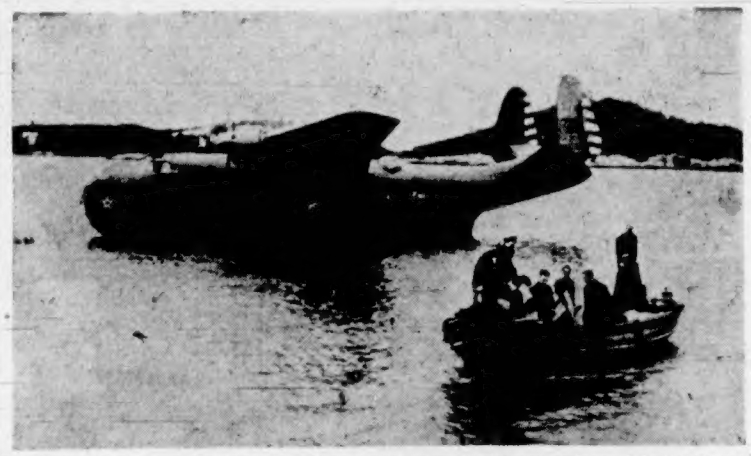
Eyewitness Reports Battleship Tirpitz Bombed by R.A.F. When at Kiel

NEW YORK, May 6 (Wednesday), (AP).—R.A.F. airmen, bombing "with astonishing precision," scored a direct hit on the 35,000-ton Nazi battleship Tirpitz some time ago when she was in Kiel Harbor prior to her transfer, The New York Times said today in quoting a Swedish seaman's eyewitness report.

The seaman, whose report was published in the Stockholm newspaper Ny Dag, also said that a great change in German civilian morale was discernible.

Britain announced last Sunday that reconnaissance had shown that three other Nazi vessels, the 26,000-ton battleships Gneisenau and Scharnhorst and the 10,000-ton cruiser Prinz Eugen, were badly damaged by recent British attacks.

Ship Survivors Rescued by Plane



One of the United States Navy's big P.B.M.'s arrives in Bermuda with nine survivors of the British tanker San Arcadio. They had been drifting in a lifeboat for twelve days. The rescue took place 175 miles from Bermuda, in heavy seas. The pilot, Lt. Joseph A. Jaap, was awarded a Distinguished Flying Cross for his part in the rescue.

British Bombers Strike at Enemy War Production

Hurl Bombs Into Skoda Arms Works at Pilsen—Industrial Area of Stuttgart Pounded—Shipping Attacked—Brief Raid Made on England—Canadians in Offensive Sweep

LONDON, May 5 (AP).—Giant new British bombers struck deep into the heart of Germany and her conquered states overnight, hurling bombs on both the Skoda Arms Works at Pilsen in Czecho-Slovakia and on factories at Stuttgart in the Reich's southwest.

Other British planes attacked German airdromes in France and Norway and shipping off Norway and Holland, and fighter squadrons sped across to France again this afternoon on new expeditions. Canadian pilots took part in raids on shipping, damaging two with direct hits.

IN FOUR SWEEPS

There were four of these sweeps over the Channel, the planes attacking Zeebrugge, Belgium, and points in occupied France. Six British planes were lost and four Nazis were shot down, it was learned.

A Southeast English Coast town was raided briefly tonight by four bomb-carrying German fighter airplanes and several casualties were reported.

JAPANESE WILL GO TO ONTARIO

Between 400 and 500 From British Columbia to Work In Beet Fields

TORONTO, May 5 (CP).—Ontario hopes to bring between 400 and 500 Japanese from British Columbia to Western Ontario sugar beet fields shortly to relieve the labor shortage, Hon. P. M. Dewan, Minister of Agriculture, disclosed tonight.

Mr. Dewan could not say the exact number involved, but explained that negotiations for their coming have been conducted between the Provincial and Dominion Labor Departments. Following their successful completion, his department took over.

The Japanese will be housed in labor camps in various parts of the sugar beet district. Mr. Dewan said that camp sites include Glencoe, Centralia and elsewhere in the Chatham and Wallaceburg districts.

SITES SURVEYED

Already a survey of sites has been made by Dr. H. D. Brown, representing sugar manufacturing interests in Chatham, Mr. Dewan said.

The Ontario Farm Service will direct the work of placing the Japanese and tomorrow the farm service director, Alex Maclaren, will tour the prospective sites.

Mr. Dewan said that the Japanese "will have to be there within the next two or three weeks."

Asked what the workers would do on completion of the sugar beet season, Mr. Dewan said "there will be other work for them," but did not specify its nature.

WILL DEAL IN WASTE MATTER

Government Forms New Salvage Company to Market Materials

OTTAWA, May 5 (CP).—The formation of a Government-owned salvage company authorized by order in council to "acquire and dispose of waste or used matter of all kinds" was announced tonight by Finance Minister Isley.

The new company will be known as Wartime Salvage Ltd., and will operate under direction of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"The company will operate in close co-operation with Government departments and agencies on questions affecting the purchase and disposal of salvage," said an announcement from the Prices and Trade Board.

"In addition to regulating prices for salvage and waste matter in the interests of maximum supply, it will also endeavor to provide facilities for the orderly marketing of all forms of salvage for which a commercial demand either does not at present exist or is not yet organized."

PRICE ORDERLINESS

The company's activities will include import and export of waste materials "with a view to price orderliness in Canadian markets."

President of the new company is Walter A. Bark, of Toronto, formerly an officer of the Canadian Salvage Corps overseas during the Great War.

"The National War Services Department will continue to be responsible for the systematic collection of all salvage material and for any promotional campaigns aimed at bringing out all forms of usable salvage," the announcement said.

The announcement also said the first operation of the new company will be in connection with waste paper.

GASOLINE DELIVERIES CUT

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP).—The War Production Board, on the recommendation of Petroleum Co-ordinator Harold Ickes, today ordered deliveries of gasoline and light fuel oil reduced about 50 per cent below last year beginning May 15 in seventeen Eastern states and the District of Columbia.

PART FULLY APPRECIATED

Ralston Denies Charges of Discrimination Against French-Canadians

OTTAWA, May 5 (CP).—Defence Minister Ralston told the House of Commons tonight that French-Canadians had "no better friends" than the officers at National Defence Headquarters.

He said that the constant endeavor of departmental officers was to see that the French-Canadian contribution to the war effort was recognized, appreciated and supported.

Colonel Ralston was replying to lengthy criticism from Jean Francois Pouliot (Liberal, Temiscouata) during consideration in committee of the War Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Pouliot made claims of discrimination against French-Canadians in the services and said they had been slandered and libeled.

NO DISCRIMINATION

"I don't want it to go out from this chamber that there is any discrimination of any kind," the minister said.

"If there has been libeling and slandering of which he complains it has not been done by the Department of National Defence.

"Every encouragement has been given the French-Candians who have entered the service. There are at least fifty French-Canadian officers at Defence Headquarters."

Questioning of Colonel Ralston on the most minute details of the army, which has continued for nearly two weeks, occupied the House all day and will continue again tomorrow.

TRANSFER OF AMERICANS

During the evening sitting, Colonel Ralston told a questioner that officers of the American armed forces who arrived at Saint John, N.B., were a part of a number of missions which would come to Canada to facilitate transfer of Americ-

CARRIES STEAKS AS AIR BAGGAGE

Squadron Leader in Scotland Enjoys Food Carried From Canada in Bomber

WITH THE R.C.A.F. SOMEWHERE IN SCOTLAND, May 5 (CP).—It isn't everyone who would carry as his personal baggage on a trans-Atlantic hop such things as tender, juicy steaks—and T-bone steaks at that—for his pals away from home. But that is just what Flt. Lt. J. W. Reid, of Sydney, N.S., did.

Sqdn. Ldr. Maurice Lipton, of Sydney, N.S., and Belleville, Ont., and a friend of Reid's, smacked his lips as he related the story of a "feed" almost unprecedented in this land of rationed food, where steak is as rare as it's tough.

Reid had the steaks—twelve of them—frozen in Montreal before he took off in a Hudson bomber on the 3,000-mile Atlantic hop. He packed the trimmings with them.

Malta Death Toll Heavier During April

VALETTA, May 5 (CP). — Axis raiders killed 247 civilians on Malta in April and fifty more died of wounds suffered earlier to make up the highest single month's casualties of the war.

The round-the-clock pounding continued today with Malta under alarm virtually all day, but the raiders, for the most part, dropped bombs in the harbor area and inflicted only a few casualties.

Vote of Services on Plebiscite Increases Total in Affirmative

Men and Women in Armed Forces in Canada and Overseas Cast 251,118 "Yes" and 60,885 "No" Ballots

OTTAWA, May 5 (CP).—Men and women in Canada's armed forces at home and overseas cast 251,118 "yes" votes to 60,885 "no" votes in the recent manpower plebiscite. The total Dominion vote on the plebiscite, including the civilian and services voting, stands at 2,921,206 "yes" and 1,608,609 "no," with 798 civilian polls still to report.

The result of the service vote, announced today by Jules Castonguay, chief plebiscite officer, gave an emphatic echo to the vote of the civilian population recorded at polling stations across Canada on April 27.

The question presented to the voters was whether they favored releasing the Government from any obligation arising out of any pledges restricting methods of raising men for the armed forces.

The "yes" vote indicated assent to the Government's request that it be released from its pledge not to impose conscription for overseas service.

RECORDED IN CAMPS

Votes of the personnel in the forces were recorded over a period of weeks in their camps and establishments at home and overseas. All members of the forces, including those under the minimum voting age of twenty-one, were entitled to cast ballots.

BRITISH NEAR NAVAL BASE ON MADAGASCAR; VICHY RESISTING

From Europe Day by Day—

By THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1942, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, May 5 (By Cable).—The Nazis continue to be heavily hit by the Royal Air Force by land and sea.

Bombing of German fortified cities like Hamburg, destruction of harbor installations in occupied France, smashing blows at airdromes from which small Luftwaffe raids are made on English towns, and the sinking of Axis ships in convoy are among the latest British exploits hampering Hitler's attempt to launch his long-awaited eastern offensive.

Savage reprisals on Exeter have caused many civilian deaths and great damage to the city. The Nazis are now pretending it is a port and highly fortified.

A Canadian squadron has taken a prominent share in bombing a German convoy off Holland.

From New Guinea it is reported the Japanese are swiftly replacing their aircraft losses. Australian correspondents emphasize the need of more Allied fighters if Australia is more effectively to defend Port Moresby, where air fighting continues daily.

Arctic and Black Sea extremities of the eastern war front area now are the most lively fighting areas, says The Times' Stockholm correspondent. The Red armies are showing an aggressive spirit and continuing to make local gains. From Kharkov to Leningrad both sides are piling up men and material.

The German push towards Murmansk hangs fire and General Dietl's forces, immobilized since last Autumn, have not been able to make progress across the muddy tundra.

On the Leningrad front the Russians are determined to recapture sections of the Baltic—White Sea Canal and Murmansk Railway that they lost last Winter. The Finns remain stationary at the River Svir, apparently considering this as the limit of their Russian conquests.

Axis preliminaries, including bombing, to drive the Red armies from the Kerch Peninsula in the Crimea have been intensified.

Savage repression by the Nazis shows their fear of revolt in occupied Europe. Seventy-two Dutchmen have been executed, including army officers, for belonging to secret organizations in touch with the Allies. Reprisals at Lille also have taken the form of slaughter of ten hostages because a German soldier was shot ten days earlier.

General Ritchie, commander of the Eighth Army in Libya, in a message to a newspaper issued for the men of his forces, said this army is the first to undertake a large-scale offensive against the German army, and it is the first to use armored formations on a large scale. The Germans had been able to regain some lost ground in Libya, but to do that they had to send to Libya tanks and material that would otherwise have been sent to Russia.

As for a second front, the Eighth Army in Libya has contributed, says General Ritchie, and will contribute to a second front. The Eighth Army in Libya would deal with the Axis army now there as it had dealt with the last one.

"We were the first army in the Empire," he concluded, "to be formed in this war, and the first to attack, and the first we will remain."

Occupying Forces Reported Within Four Miles of Diego Suarez—London Says "Operations Proceeding and Casualties Light"—Coastal Defences Pierced and Battery Captured

Laval, Petain and Darlan Express Anger Over Coup

LONDON, May 5 (AP).—British Commandos, regular infantrymen and Royal Marines moved upon Madagascar's Diego Suarez naval base tonight in a swift incursion seeking to strike from the reaching hand of the Axis a vital Indian Ocean position and effect a major United Nations coup in the world-wide struggle for mastery of the seas.

The landing forces, protected by warships and aircraft, dashed ashore at Courrier Bay, ten miles across the isthmus from Diego Suarez itself, at dawn this morning and by nightfall had broken the Vichy French coastal defences, captured a battery which had shelled the landings and were smashing at the back door of the base through the tropical jungle.

SIZE OF FORCES

Advices released by Vichy sources tonight said the British occupying forces, which the French claimed to number 20,000, had reached Andrakaka, four miles from the naval base. The same report put the French and Indian defenders at 7,500, nearly twice the London estimate.

British sources gave only the briefest of accounts on the progress of the landing.

"Operations are proceeding and our casualties have so far been light," said a communique from the Admiralty and War Office tonight.

Vichy reports said waves of parachutists had been landed at the outset of a double attack in which warships and squadrons of aircraft made a frontal thrust from the sea, timed with the overland assault on the rear by light armored units landed in Courrier Bay.

Vichy said also that the British

BULLETINS

ANTWERP RAIDED

NEW YORK, May 6 (Wednesday), (AP).—The Nazi requisitioned Ford factories in Antwerp, Belgium, were hard hit during a recent R.A.F. raid, the B.B.C. said today in quoting information reaching Belgian circles in London. C.B.S. heard the broadcast.

BLOW UP TRAINS

MOSCOW, May 6 (Wednesday), (AP).—Russian guerrillas operating on the Borisov-Minsk Railway 400 miles west of Moscow and far behind the German advance lines have blown up two Nazi troop trains and killed or wounded 500 Germans, the Moscow radio said today in quoting President Natavelich of the Nazi-occupied White Russian Republic.

EIGHT PLANES DOWN

CHUNGKING, May 6 (Wednesday), (AP).—American volunteer flyers shot down eight Japanese planes in air battles yesterday over Paoshan on the Burma Road, it was officially announced in Kunming today.

IGNORED VICHY

LONDON, May 5 (AP).—Free French headquarters announced today that 50,000 Frenchmen in Lyons ingorned the Vichy Government's ban on May Day demonstrations and gathered on May 1 in Place Cornot singing the "Marseillaise." The crowd, according to the announcement, shouted "Vive de Gaulle" and "Laval to the Gallows." Many were arrested.

BOMBERS STRIKE

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 6 (Wednesday), (CP).—Allied bombers struck at Japanese bases at Lae, New Guinea, and Rabaul, New Britain, for the second straight day yesterday, and caught a number of Japanese planes on the ground at the former position, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Canadian Is Given Medal For Courage

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—Lieut. P. A. R. Thompson, twenty-five, of Oakville, Ont., R.C.N.V.R. commander of a British gunboat which engaged three German E-boats in a running battle in the North Sea in the middle of March, has been awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. The London Gazette, announcing the award, said it was made for "courage, skill and seamanship in action against the enemy."

HAILS LANDING ON MADAGASCAR

London Newspapers See Action as Sign of New Offensive Spirit

LONDON, May 6 (Wednesday), (CP).—London morning papers applauded the landing on Madagascar today as symbolizing what The Daily Mail called the "new offensive spirit of the Allied Nations."

The newspapers praised Washington's statement approving the action and The Daily Mail said it was a "warning which Vichy should well heed."

"Our plans for victory demand the occupation of Madagascar," The Daily Mail said. "Without it, we should be in grave danger of defeat. . . . If there is to be fighting in the island, we hope it will be short and sharp, conducted on our side with the strongest available force."

DINED AND WINED IN VICHY

The Daily Express said:

"We could not leave another Indo-China loose in the Indian Ocean, not while Japanese admirals were being dined and wined in Vichy and enemies of Britain were in control of Madagascar."

The Daily Telegraph said:

"President Roosevelt lost not a moment in making clear to the men of Vichy that the British landing had the full approval of the American Government. . . . His downright message sets the relations between America and Vichy on a new basis. Petain and the two rivals for the post of chief Quisling, Laval and Darlan, were told they will be given no more rope."

Invasion of Chinese Territory Admitted; Enemy Enters Yunnan

Fierce Fighting Continues in Mountainous Areas on Both Sides of Frontier—Japanese Are Trying to Envelop Allied Forces

CHUNGKING, China, May 5 (AP).—Japanese forces stormed onto Chinese soil through the Burma door today, and, while thus menacing the cause of Free China on yet another front, began a movement of envelopment designed to trap the thin, tired line of British troops who stand between the invader and India.

The vanguard of the Japanese columns crossed the shallow Wanting River into China's Yunnan Province at the end of a 500-mile advance up Burma.

HOLDING ENEMY

Meagre military advices told of fierce fighting in the mountainous area on both sides of the border, official reports perhaps delayed, indicated the Chinese still held the Chinese customs station of Wanting and had, for the time at least, halted Japanese reinforcements at Chukok, on the Burma side.

Another arm of the Japanese advance, based on Kutkai inside Burma, appeared to be trying to forge northwest toward Bhamo, head of navigation on the river Irrawaddy, 170 miles north of fallen Mandalay.

This force apparently is trying to flank and cut off the British troops who are withdrawing up the Chind-

U.S. WILL BOOST ARMED STRENGTH

To Have Army of Six Million Men Instead of 3,600,000 First Proposed

WASHINGTON, May 5 (AP).—The United States is to have an army of 6,000,000 men, Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson disclosed today in opposing a congressional move to ban the commissioning of officers direct from civilian ranks.

As a result of the War Department's opposition, the House Military Committee ditched the proposal and adopted instead a provision requiring merely that the Secretary of War report to Congress every sixty days the name, age, residence and qualifications of every civilian given a commission.

Patterson made only incidental reference to the 6,000,000-man goal for the army and did not disclose when it was to be reached. It had been announced previously that the army planned to have 2,600,000 men in its ranks this year.

British Officers Go To Certain Death to Perform Their Duty

Accompany German Officers Aboard Explosive-Laden Destroyer Rammed Into Dockgate at St. Nazaire and Perish in Blast

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—The French population of St. Nazaire battled alongside British commandos against the Germans for three and one-half days after the commandos landed there on the night of March 27-28, while intermittent explosions rocked the town for days after the landing, the Free French press service reported today.

The service quoted a dramatic eye-witness account by an unnamed correspondent who told also of two British officers who were taken prisoners allowing themselves to be blown up aboard the destroyer Campbeltown just to prove to the Germans she contained no explosives.

The correspondent related that the first intimation of the raid was the appearance of British planes the night of March 27.

"At 1 a.m. the British forces began to land," he went on. "The destroyer Campbeltown headed for the dock gate, slow at first, then with increasing speed.

"The Germans reacted very poorly. They were stunned and seemed unable to believe their eyes. They maintained intense but inaccurate fire on the Campbeltown as she approached the dock gate.

"Meanwhile, the mechanism of the gate had been put out of action by British landing parties. Other detachments rapidly occupied the Penhote Shipbuilding Yards and the railway station, which they held two hours and where they hoisted the Union Jack.

ATTACK GERMANS

"The French population spontaneously left their houses and attacked Germans in the streets. The Germans showed signs of panic. They then were expecting a full-scale British invasion. Two thousand of their sailors immediately were ordered to evacuate inland.

"Meanwhile, the German authorities were questioning two British officers who had been taken prisoner. The Campbeltown, which was firmly wedged in the dock gate, had not yet exploded.

"The Germans asked the British officers if the Campbeltown contained explosives. The Britons replied in the negative. To test their good faith the Germans asked them if they would accompany the party which was going to inspect the destroyer.

AN HEROIC ACT

"The British officers immediately agreed. They accompanied a party of high German naval officers and engineers on board. No sooner were they on board than the Campeltown and the dock gate blew up. The two heroic British officers and all the Germans aboard were instantly killed.

"By 8 a.m., March 28, calm had temporarily been established. The Germans succeeded in retaking the submarine base, but only after re-embarkation of the British.

"What the Germans did not realize was that a number of the Commandos had been left behind. Throughout the afternoon the Germans were in a state of wild agitation. The town was in ferment.

SURPRISE BLAST

"At 7 p.m. the old entrance to the submarine base, at which two delayed action torpedoes had been fired the previous night, blew up with a violent explosion.

"Though by prearranged signal, fighting immediately broke out between the Germans, who had completely lost their nerve, and the French population and the Commandos. A series of small but furious battles were fought in the streets, in cafes and in private houses.

"Hostilities continued without respite over the week-end and ended only on the night of Monday-Tuesday.

"The French population rose in a body and fought fiercely with any arms on which they could lay their hands. The Commandos also fought magnificently, although they must have known they had little hope of escaping with their lives."

CORREGIDOR FORT HAS SURRENDERED

both food and ammunition and under constant bombardment, had about reached its end.

The army communique did not say what the prospects were. It confined itself to a grim, one-sentence statement that the assault was in progress at midnight Tuesday, Manila time (7 a.m. P.D.T.). Presumably a battle was on, but there was no hint of its trend or outcome.

A total of 7,000 men or more are believed to be on Corregidor and other island forts in Manila Bay, although there was no official word of the number. The defenders included both Americans and Filipinos.

BOMBED AND SHELLED

The attack followed a day which saw the rocky island fortress bombed thirteen times and shelled almost continually for a period of five hours. Presumably the landing attempt was made from nearby Bataan Peninsula, the scene of an epic resistance but inevitable defeat several weeks ago.

Informed opinion in army quarters was that Lieut.-Gen. Jonathan Wainwright and his men on Corregidor could not hold out much longer. Not only has the fort been bombed from the air, but it has been pounded unceasingly by big guns emplaced both on Bataan and on the Cavite shore.

It was generally considered that this battering had destroyed the fort's shore or beach defences, including barbed wire entanglements, pillboxes and the like, thus facilitating the Japanese landing.

SOLDIERS LACK FOOD

Word that the soldiers on Corregidor lacked food and ammunition came, for the first time, in a message which President Roosevelt sent to General Wainwright, before the receipt of the latter's communication telling of the landing attack.

"In spite of all the handicaps of complete isolation, lack of food and ammunition," the President said, "you have given the world a shining example of patriotic fortitude and self-sacrifice."

Hoping for the best, but fearing the worst, Washington foresaw, with the fall of Corregidor, the collapse as well of two smaller island forts guarding the entrance to Manila Bay. This would permit the Japanese for the first time to make full use of the bay and shattered shore facilities as a stepping-stone base to bulwark their war activities farther to the south.

It would mean, too, that resistance to the invader in the Philippines had been reduced to the activities of isolated bands, which are still active on several islands.

PRESIDENT'S PRAISE

Mr. Roosevelt's message to Wainwright was unstinting in its praise for the valor and heroism of Corregidor's defenders.

"During recent weeks," it said, "we have been following with growing admiration the day-by-day accounts of your heroic stand against the mounting intensity of bombardment by enemy planes and heavy siege guns."

He added his statement on isolation, and lack of food and ammunition, and continued:

"The American people ask no finer example of tenacity, resourcefulness and steadfast courage. The calm determination of your leadership in a desperate situation sets a standard of duty for our soldiers throughout the world.

"In every camp and on every naval vessel soldiers, sailors and marines are inspired by the gallant struggle of their comrades in the Philippines. The workmen in our shipyards and munitions plants redouble their efforts because of your example. You and your devoted followers have become the living symbols of our war aims and the guarantee of victory."

BRITISH BOMBERS STRIKE AT ENEMY

heavy bombers, in a force officially described as "strong" concentrated most of their attack on Stuttgart, with the main target the Bosch Works, which produces magnetoes and other electrical equipment.

It was the war's seventh raid on Stuttgart and the fourth on Pilsen, which last was raided by the big Stirlings on April 25.

In continuing war on Nazi shipping, a spectacular achievement was the bombing of two ships in Kristiansand Harbor, Southern Norway, by an Australian who hurled his Hudson bomber into the inlet almost at sea level.

RAIDS ON ENGLAND

The Germans overnight raided the English South Coast, and four of their planes were destroyed. The Berlin radio said Cowes and Eastburne were the targets.

A Czech pilot, flying a four-cannon Hurricane, came upon six German bombers returning to their French bases, dashed in among them and shot down three.

The Canadians, members of the R.C.A.F.'s "Demon Squadron" of the Coastal Command, attacked two convoys off the Frisian Islands, near the coast of Holland.

One aircraft commanded by Wing-Commander A. C. Brown, D.F.C., of Winnipeg, crashed its bombs from 500 feet onto a ship which was quickly enveloped in a huge orange flash.

RATED BEST SQUADRON

For, the Canadians it was a resumption of the coastal warfare which brought them a heavy total of enemy shipping destroyed and earned them the reputation of being one of the best squadrons in the command.

Christie pressed home an attack on a large ship in a convoy despite heavy anti-aircraft fire which damage dhis starboard engine just as he was about to make a run over the target.

His bombs hit the mark squarely and "there was a treemndous explosion as if ammunition abboard the ship was blown up," said P.O. W. Garton, of Boissevain, Man., wireless operator and air gunner on Christie's plane.

"A large fire broke out almost immediately," added P.O. E. C. H. Kendall, of Toronto, the navigator.

Not satisfied with dropping bombs, the Canadians flew low over the ship and Rear-Gunner P.O. R. W. Worthington, of Toronto, raked other vessels of the convoy with a stream of bullets.

As the Hudson turned from the convoy its damaged engine burst into flames but Christie cut off the motor and nursed his aircraft back to base with one engine.

VIOLENT EXPLOSION

"At 300 feet our aircraft was violently shaken by the force of our own bomb explosion," Brown said. "It was so bad in fact that our adjutant, Flight Lieutenant Dick Whaley, of Sydney, N.S., who came along in our plane, was thrown from one side of the aircraft to the other."

A near miss that was so close it may have damaged a third ship was reported by P.O. G. L. Mosier, of Waverley, N.Y., whose crew included Sergeants G. P. Axhorne, of Victoria, B.C., as navigator, and R. F. Sanderlin, of Cornwall, Ont., and W. P. F. Whittey, of Montreal, as wireless operators and air gunners.

An Australian pilot of another Hudson squadron flew almost at sea level into Kristiansand Harbor of Norway and bombed two ships lying about twenty yards apart.

"There was a tremendous barrage of flak but I managed to weave my way through it to release the bombs as we swept over the ships," he said. "As I climbed away smoke was coming from both vessels."

ARTIST SINGS FOR SOLDIERS

John Charles Thomas Delights Troops in Special Concert at Macaulay

"He's got the crap shootin' man in his hand, he's got the whole round world right in his hand . . ." So sang John Charles Thomas, and that's where the great baritone had some 700 soldiers last night, when he stayed over during his visit to Victoria to sing to the men at Macaulay Camp.

It was Mr. Thomas' full rich voice, then deafening, ear-splitting applause by the men, shrill whistling and calls for more, then Mr. Thomas again.

"More, more," they called.

"Well, I've got plenty of time, if my pianist can stand it," the smiling artist affably acquiesced. "His accompanist played without music, and was also generously applauded by the troops.

MRS. THOMAS HONORED

Mr. Thomas sang in the Y.M.C.A. Hut, under the auspices of the Y.M.C.A. War Services. He was introduced by Don Forward, supervisor of the hut. When he had entertained them for the better part of an hour and a half, the soldiers gave him a tremendous, sustained ovation. Brig. Vernon Hodson, commander of the West Coast defence area, thanked the artist on behalf of "my comrades," and Volunteer Kathleen Oleson carried a great bouquet across the stage to Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. Thomas arrived a little late, with smiling face beaming broadly on the solid rows of soldiers, representing every unit in the Macaulay Camp. He was wearing a long black coat, blue trousers and tan shoes. He came out on the stage a picture of sartorical elegance in a light grey sports jacket, dark blue shirt and a striking white tie splashed with blue polka dots, the size of dimes and fifty-cent pieces.

When he sang gay songs of the sea and the prairies, Mr. Thomas thrust his hands nonchalantly in his trouser pockets and strolled around the stage, the Garrison Band in the background. The soldiers roared their applause.

WIDE SELECTION

Then, with swift change of mood, carrying the men along with him, he sang "The Lord's Prayer." They sat deadly still as the marvellous voice flowed out with effortless ease while the singer stood, leaning back slightly, hands clasped before him, eyes closed.

He sang "In the Land of the Sky Blue Water," the Toreador song from Carmen, by Bizet; "Old Man River," "Home on the Range," "God Bless America" and many others.

The band, under Bandmaster G. E. Bower, played during the intermission, and before Mr. Thomas' arrival. The men, in happy expectation, joined in the chorus of songs like "Tipperary," "Kiss Me Good-Night, Sergeant-Major" and "Bless 'Em All."

Ernest Henry Harnack, X-Ray pioneer who continued his experiments until X-Ray cancer cost him both his hands, died in England.

In Action Against Japanese Bombers

This picture depicts action mentioned in the United States Navy Press release headed, "Twenty Men Promoted in Navy for Meritorious Action During Bombing Attack." Members of an anti-aircraft machine-gun battery are shown still at battle stations after repelling a Japanese bomber which attempted a suicide plunge into the warship on which they are stationed. The action took place during February's raid on Jap-held Marshall Islands. No names were given.

"Thank you!—It's perfectly clear now!"

Exchange Problems in War Time

War conditions compelled Canada to set up certain regulations governing Foreign Exchange. Business men must observe the rulings of the Foreign Exchange Board.

The Dominion Bank, through its Foreign Department, has made a close study of these regulations, and has kept itself fully informed on new rulings and developments.

This Bank gladly offers expert advice and assistance in Foreign Exchange problems. The Manager of any of our Branches will be glad to place our facilities at your disposal.

New Fire Services Saved Four Cities In Reprisal Raids

Britain Now Better Equipped for Fire-Fighting

Assaults on Bath, York, Norwich and Exeter Tempered by Work of Firemen

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—Britain's national fire service has emerged from the German reprisal raids against England's historic cities as one of the finest fighting forces in the world. By skill and courage of its men and the greater efficiency of a new co-operative system, Exeter, Norwich, Bath and York were saved from destruction by fire.

This record, Home Secretary Herbert Morrison said, would not have been possible under the old fire brigade system which existed until nine months ago.

BETTER EQUIPPED

"Today the country is better equipped for fire fighting than ever before," Morrison said in a survey of the work of the National Fire Service. "Every officer who goes to a fire knows he has behind him the whole resources of a unified and nation-wide service."

Describing the welding into a national system of 1,450 separate brigades with different systems of training, different drills, different words of command, different methods of fire fighting and different standards of efficiency, Morrison said the task of reorganization was "immense."

The new organization, grouped into thirty-seven fire forces, received its first real test in the Nazi "Baedecker" raids and "more than justified itself," Morrison added.

FIREMEN SAVED BATH

He said: "The regional commissioner reported to me there was no doubt at all the N.F.S. saved a great part of Bath."

Ellen Wilkinson, Labor member of the House of Commons and a national defence worker, received a similar report from Norwich and residents of Exeter and York were unstinted in their praise of the work of the firemen who defied bombs and machine-gun fire to fight the flames in those cathedral cities.

The latest victim of the reprisal raids, Exeter, grimly but cheerfully shouldered the burden of rehabilitation after an attack which indelibly marked the city's historic sites.

It was the third raid in eleven nights for the city and the most severe it has endured in this war. Smoke is still curling from the ruins of its Georgian houses and the rescue services are shifting debris and searching for the bodies of those missing, but the people have accepted the loss of lives and property stoically.

ENEMY CROSSES CHINA'S BORDER

win River valley toward the rugged Indian frontier.

THREAT TO CHUNGKING

By smashing into China up the Burma road the Japanese hoped to throw a wedge between China's great manpower reserve and China's allies in Asia. There was also a distant but real threat to Chungking itself, capital of Free China, 670 miles from the present Yunnan battle zone.

Enforcement of a new national mobilization act, to marshal all human and material resources, was under way through Free China, and a nation-wide campaign was begun to stress the need for even greater sacrifice.

ALLIES WITHDRAWING

Officers returning from the frontier between India and Burma said tonight that a rapid Allied withdrawal is in progress in Burma and a spokesman here said it appeared likely a considerable number of both British and Chinese troops would be captured by the Japanese.

United States and British operated air lines are doing a "last ditch" job of evacuating as many troops and refugee civilians as possible.

Those being brought out were mostly women and children.

Seven planes of Pan-American Airways were diverted from the China transport of the evacuation service and hauled out 1,200 persons before the Japanese virtually surrounded the airfield from which they were operating several miles north of Mandalay.

These unarmed planes are flying in broad daylight without escort despite the presence of Japanese fighters here, there and everywhere.

On the tortured battlefront the picture was grim for the British and Chinese forces.

The Chinese 6th Army on the eastern side of the Irrawaddy was scattered in small pickets for 100 miles south of Lashio as well as to the north and east of this junction of the railroad connecting with the now severed Burma Road.

British forces on the west side of the Irrawaddy were backed up against trackless, jungle-covered mountains standing between them and the India frontier.

They were fighting desperately in spots but were outnumbered and under terrific punishment from Japanese planes.

FOUR MONTHS' BATTLE

British soldiers flown out had been fighting four months without relief, constantly faced with fresh Japanese divisions and hammered unceasingly from the air.

"They were a tired lot, those I had in my plane," said a Pan-American pilot.

But they came out with full equipment, ready for service again after brief repairs in hospital.

The planes, originally designed to carry twenty-one passengers, on some trips were loaded with seventy refugees. They landed their refugees on improvised airfields, refuelled immediately and were off again for another load.

BRITISH NEAR TO MADAGASCAR BASE

naval forces consisted of two cruisers, four destroyers, two troop transports and an aircraft carrier, and reported that two British planes were shot down.

The German radio earlier in the day said a French submarine and tender had been sunk and that there were French casualties.

MAIN OBJECTIVE

Diego Suarez was the primary British objective, although it is likely there will be a subsequent move against Tulear on the southwest coast. Tulear has a good airdrome from which Allied planes could patrol the entrance to Mozambique Channel, between Durban and Tulear, 900 miles apart.

British troops exclusively were conducting the operation, although in the cause of all the United Nations. There were none of the Free French nor Australian forces such as fought in the invasion of Syria.

Distinguished veteran officers led the occupying forces, Rear Admiral E. N. Syfret commanding the naval escort and Major-Gen. R. G. Sturges of the Royal Marines, who fought at Gallipoli in the first Great War, leading the troops.

Thus was destroyed what an informed source declared was a Japanese plan to seize Diego Suarez with the connivance of Vichy and make it a base for Axis attacks on Allied shipping.

JAPAN MAY STRIKE

But this same informant conceded the possibility that the Japanese High Command might at once send its Indian Ocean battle squadron against Madagascar in a desperate attempt to dislodge the British forces from the northern tip.

Of necessity, this would involve a straight, swift blow across the Indian Ocean, by-passing such obvious stepping stones as the Seychelles and Amirantes Islands, Mauritius and Reunion. Should the Japanese attempt to build a system of bases on these islands, one informed source said, "the British will get enough bombers and men o' war into Madagascar to blow them out of the water."

The Allied naval position in the Indian Ocean is of necessity a secret, although Axis reports have claimed that two United States battleships, the North Carolina and the Washington, have entered those waters.

The precise quality of French resistance which was going on today, under Vichy's orders, was in some doubt, but the defending forces were believed to number no more than 4,000 effectives. They were commanded by General Guillement.

VICHY IS ANNOYED

VICHY, France, May 5 (AP).—Reacting angrily to the British landing on Madagascar, the Vichy Government rejected today a United States warning against putting up a fight and ordered the island's garrison in the far away Indian Ocean to resist.

But the Chief of Government, Pierre Laval, who made known these decisions at a press conference, said Vichy nevertheless would decline to take the first step toward breaking off diplomatic relations with Washington as a result of its backing Britain in what Vichy called the Madagascar "aggression."

With British sea forces, "waves of parachutists" and light armored forces following up an ultimatum in an attack on the strong naval base at Diego Suarez Bay, eighty-six-year-old Marshal Petain, Laval and Admiral Jean Darlan, defence chief, united in denouncing the attack and in urging French air, sea and land forces to resist attack.

DARLAN IS BITTER

Darlan, as commander of all French armed forces, outdid both Laval and Petain in bitterness in a message to the defending forces.

Calling the British "highway robbers" and flaying "Anglo-Saxons" in general, he declared "the day will come when England will pay."

"Once again the British, instead of fighting their enemies, seek the easiest path of attacking a French colony far from the metropolis," he said.

"Marshal Petain has asked you to defend Madagascar, and I know that you have responded patriotically to his appeal.

"Defend yourselves. You are defending the honor of France. The day will come when England will pay. Long live France!".

Laval personally announced the rejection of a United States note warning that resistance against the occupation of Madagascar would be considered "as an attack directed against the United Nations."

The French note said the Vichy Government "rejects as inadmissable the pretence to forbid the French Government to defend its territory" and "raises the most energetic protest against this aggression."

Vichy official sources asserted: "Never has Japan made any requests concerning Madagascar, either from the diplomatic or military viewpoint."

Brooke Stephenson, officer commanding the 3rd Battalion, Canadian Scottish (Reserve), watch with interest while two soldiers of the unit demonstrate defensive tactics for men after the loss of weapons. The picture was taken at the Bay Street Armoury during Brigadier Miller's inspection of the 3rd Scottish on Monday night.

cans in the Canadian forces to units in their own country.

Colonel Ralston said that he had no definite figures of the number of Americans affected in the ranks of the Canadian forces, but he said it probably would be between 6,000 and 7,000, with possibly another 2,300 in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

Gordon Graydon (Conservative, Peel) renewed a suggestion he made some days ago that the Defence Minister receive a committee of men in the ranks to obtain first-hand information of what the army is thinking about and what suggestions it has for betterment. He referred to a questionnaire sent out by the United States to obtain the views of the men.

Defence Minister Ralston said a very similar activity was being carried out in the Canadian Army, although no questionnaire had been circulated.

AS SEARCHLIGHT CREWS

The use of members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps as searchlight battery crews was envisioned by Mr. Ralston.

The minister expressed great satisfaction with progress made so far in organizing the women's section of the Canadian Army and saw the possibility of increasing it to 15,000, although the present requisition is for 5,000.

On April 11 last the corps had seventy-two officers and 2,180 other ranks in training to be used as cooks, waitresses, clerical workers, canteen and other auxiliary workers, and in motorized operations.

Colonel Ralston was reminded by questioners that in Britain women worked on anti-aircraft batteries and predictors and was asked what the possibility was for Canadian women being used in activities more closely associated with actual fighting.

"As to training and handling weapons and munitions," the minister said, "when I was on the Pacific Coast an officer in charge of the searchlight battery mentioned to me that he believed members of the C.W.A.C. would be able to do that sort of work admirably.

"They are certainly equipped to do it. They have the standard of education and their aptitude certainly indicates that they would be able to do that kind of work.

"There again it is a matter of accommodation and it is somewhat more difficult for the corps than for the army."

DIRECTOR OF CENSORSHIP

Before routine proceedings were taken up, Prime Minister Mackenzie King announced that an office of "director of censorship" had been set up, headed by Colonel O. M. Biggar, K.C., Ottawa, chairman of the Canadian section of the Canada-United States Permanent Joint Defence Committee.

This will bring all censorship activities, including press, radio, postal, cable and telegraph, under one director who will be responsible to the Minister of National War Services.

Mr. King said that Colonel Biggar would continue to act as Canadian chairman of the defence committee.

During the course of the afternoon's discussion Pensions Minister Mackenzie announced that for some time the officers of his department had been considering a "national fitness" programme to improve the health of potential war workers, but he could not make a definite statement at the moment.

The counting of the service vote was carried out by special returning officers in the presence of scrutineers appointed on nomination of the four party leaders in the House of Commons.

The total number of rejected ballots in the armed services voting was 2,986.

This is the way Canada's sailors, soldiers and airmen voted:

BY-LAW TO GO BEFORE VOTERS

Measure Would Provide Waterworks System for People Of Brentwood District

Saanich Municipal Council last night gave first reading to a by-law which, if passed by the voters on May 23, will empower the corporation to borrow $29,000 for the construction of a waterworks system to serve residents of the Brentwood district.

Voters will cast their ballots between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. at West Saanich Hall, corner of West Saanich Road and Keating Crossroad, on May 23. W. A. Greene, municipal clerk, will act as returning officer.

J. L. Hobbs was named to represent Saanich Council on the directorate of the Royal Jubilee Hospital. Councillors ordered received and filed a letter from F. M. Ohrt, district warden of A.R.P. District 1C, in which he expressed appreciation of the municipality's efforts in furthering civilian protection work, and acknowledged the help of Councillor J. L. Hobbs, the fire and police chiefs and their staffs in carrying out A.R.P. work.

SHELVE REQUEST

Council decided to take no action upon a letter from the Corps of Commissionaires, suggesting that it furnish guards for the municipality's water wells.

The Vancouver Island Coach Lines notified the council that, effective May 15, the Lake Hill bus would be extended, to leave Victoria at 7:40 p.m. for Blenkinsop Road and Cedar Hill Crossroad, and would return to town at 7:58 p.m. Effective May 15, the extension of the Lake Hill bus on the 8 p.m. Lake Hill schedule to Hunter's Corner, leaving there at 8:20 p.m., will be discontinued.

A letter from the board of directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital, expressing regret on the death of the late John R. Scoby, was received and filed.

ACCEPTS OFFERS

Council accepted Robert Bailey's offer of $75 for a property on Carey Road, and also an offer of $300 from A. Shafoval for three lots on Burnside Road. In a letter, School Trustee Mrs. E. M. Bryce expressed her thanks for the council's action in erecting a fence about a gravel pit near Mount Tolmie High School.

The request of the Victoria-Saanich beaches and parks committee for an extra grant of $150 was approved by council. Clerk W. A. Greene and Councillor John Watson reported upon the Victory Pageant which will be held at Macdonald Park May 25, with proceeds to go, on a per capita basis, to the A.R.P. organizations of Greater Victoria.

Nebraska Swept By Severe Storm

OMAHA, May 5 (AP).—A snowstorm which reached blinding proportions swept over Northwestern Nebraska tonight, while in the southeast corner of the state heavy rains overflowed at least one river.

Stalled cars dotted roads near Chadron, where twelve inches of snow had fallen and snow ploughs were unable to keep the roads clear. Traffic also was blocked near Crawford.

BUYS NEW FIRE TRUCK

NANAIMO, May 5.—Acting on the advice of Alderman Charles Salter, chairman of the fire wardens' committee, the City Council has authorized the purchase of a new truck for the fire chief to cost $1,121.09 and a siren for it to cost $45. It was added to bring Nanaimo Fire Department up to a standard to meet any emergency.

nese that they locked the city gates, arrested several hundred Chinese civilians and began a house-to-house search after proclaiming martial law.

BRIDGES BLOWN UP

In spite of these regulations, the guerrillas were reported to have started many fires and to have blown up bridges outside the city.

Later in a fight with 2,000 Chinese puppet troops, supported by eighteen Japanese planes, the guerrillas were said to have killed half the enemy forces.

The guerrillas, who maintain an elaborate espionage system, apparently took advantage of the fact that Japanese garrisons in the raided cities have been reduced by withdrawal of some 400,000 troops from China to other battlefronts.

MADAGASCAR'S IMPORTANCE

The British invasion of Madagascar, for invasion it must be called since resistance is being encountered, is a continuation of the policy whereby Syria and Lebanon fell into the hands of the United Nations. With Japanese naval forces in the Indian Ocean, with Japan having all but conquered Burma and being on the eve of placing herself in a position to invade India; having placed herself astride the Burma Road and thus cut off the possibility of supplies being sent by that route to China, the strategic situation in the world war in the areas of the Pacific and Indian Oceans has undergone a considerable alteration. The island of Madagascar lies athwart, as it were, the steamship route that is used by the United Nations from Atlantic ports around the Cape of Good Hope and through the Indian Ocean to ports in India, to Australia and New Zealand and other points in the Pacific Ocean and through the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean. These routes must be protected. Much can be done in this way by naval power based on Madagascar.

It has been obvious that ever since Japan entered the war there have been both Japanese and German efforts to make sure that when the time was deemed auspicious Madagascar would be taken over, either through force of arms or by an arrangement with the Vichy Government. Great Britain, fully aware of what was intended, has taken time by the forelock and anticipated the Axis Powers. It is true that this step may lead to open warfare with Unoccupied France, may throw M. Pierre Laval and his colleagues wholly into the hands of the Nazis to do their bidding. The action may even give M. Laval the final excuse he wants for engineering the transfer of what is left of the French Navy to Germany's possession. Great Britain and the rest of the United Nations are willing to risk this. If they were not there would have been disagreement about the attack on Madagascar.

The United Nations want Madagascar as a base only for the duration of the war. Great Britain has made it clear that such is the intention and that, when France is freed, Madagascar will be freed as well of British or whatever other forces of the United Nations may be there at the time. No doubt the naval base at Madagascar from which Great Britain intends to operate will be strongly defended by her and since it is at such long range from Japan the possibility of an attack from that quarter seems unlikely, the more especially because Japan will become more and more preoccupied elsewhere as the months elapse. In the matter of strategy in such a world war Great Britain is pursuing a wise purpose, necessary to the safety of her African possessions, and necessary, too, for insuring that the ocean routes from the Atlantic to the Pacific and Indian Oceans and to Middle Eastern ports are safeguarded.

PLATITUDINOUS POLITICIANS

Mr. John Blackmore, the leader of the New Democracy Party in Parliament, wants to know what Members of Parliament are for if not to talk. His conception, according to his own practice, is right. Commenting on the result of the plebiscite he said: "The people have done their part," which is both a trite saying and a truism, but adds nothing to anything. Mr. Blackmore when he broadcast on the subject of the plebiscite during the campaign refused to advise the people how to vote. Presumably, therefore, he sat on the fence, and now come those "pearls of wisdom" falling from his lips—"The people have done their part." No wonder there is some uneasiness in the halls of Parliament over the wastage of words there, over the platitudinous utterances that, often enough, would be discarded as copybook headlines for the exercise of schoolchildren.

The present session of Parliament opened on January 22; it is now May 6. It is true that the members were given a long Easter holiday, far too long considering the crisis there is in the affairs of mankind. Parliament is in its fourth month of the present session and the budget has not yet been presented. Little has been done, perhaps nothing of importance that adds to the war effort. It is small wonder, then, that many should be asking if members of the House of Commons are doing anything like a full war job, even in connection with their legislative duties. It is true they are very much hampered in this regard because, under the War Measures Act, full power is concentrated in the hands of the Government, and that Government, because of this, only wants moneys voted for its purposes. The Calgary Herald says of what is happening, or not happening:

"Several weeks at the beginning of the session were devoted to the debate on the Speech from the Throne. Hansard reveals the useless repetition of views. Since then the attention of the Prime Minister and his colleagues has been centred largely on the national plebiscite issue. Now that it has been disposed of by a rousing majority, may the country expect more vigorous and satisfactory leadership in Parliament? There is nothing to delay all-out war effort now." That same newspaper quotes a member during the course of debate asking why more use is not being made of the talents of private members, some of them experts along different lines. Mr. Blackmore says that members are sent to Ottawa to talk. Does that mean, now "the people have done their part," that the representatives in Parliament will just go on talking? The Calgary Herald believes that the people expect something more. It says: "The Canadian people look to Mackenzie King to see to it that this session of Parliament greatly expands the country's war effort. He may depend on it that since last Monday's (April 27) emphatic signal to go ahead he will be more than ever resting under critical and vigilant scrutiny. He has no longer any excuse for inaction, or delay, or playing politics."

CENSORSHIP

The Ottawa Journal says: "In war, there are only two types of censorship to which objection can be taken. They are, (1) Censorship which, professing to keep information from the enemy, is used to shield a Government or a Government department from exposure of inefficiency. (2) Censorship seeking to stifle freedom of opinion, preventing just and necessary criticism. Let it be added at once that no such censorship of this character exists or has existed at any time in this war."

The Journal is not wholly correct. Censorship has operated and is operating in the interests of political administration by Ottawa. It has rules which cover up inefficiency. It often times down reports on labor troubles in war industries because failure to find a solution for these must be laid at the door of the Government. It covers up information respecting wanton wastage of public funds in public outlays. It puts an embargo on mentioning where ships are being launched, but where a Minister of the Government comments on labor conditions in any particular industry it is regarded as legitimate to mention both the industry and its location. This, of course, is discrimination. A Minister of the Government, apparently, can break the laws of censorship whereas a newspaper may not. Then, again, The Ottawa Journal is wrong in saying that censorship does not operate to prevent "just and necessary" criticism. It does. There is the case of The Vancouver Sun, which was fined because of articles appearing in that newspaper which contained comment which, everyone on the Pacific Coast knows, was "just and necessary," and which was instrumental, in part at least, in remedying the conditions that gave rise to the complaint.

As a matter of fact, censorship requires a good deal of examination and the Government should call the newspapers to its councils to determine how it should operate. It is far from satisfactory as devised. It is intricate and confusing. It is causing newspapers unnecessary expense and proportionate dissatisfaction. The whole system that Ottawa has devised needs thorough overhauling and the sooner this is done and the present difficulties ironed out the sooner there will be a more congenial relationship between the Press and the powers that be.

WAR VEGETABLE GARDENS

Despite the somewhat guarded advice of the Agricultural Supplies Board and the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in the matter of wartime vegetable gardens it is hoped that their productive capacity has been increased and that people who can will go on planting vegetables while it is possible seasonally. The official attitude on the subject in Ottawa leaves something to be desired. Here are some excerpts from a brochure issued on the subject:

"If you have always had a vegetable garden, by all means plant one again this year. If you have not had one before, and have not had previous experience, it is not urged that you plant one this year. . . . There is no present necessity for new community or school gardens.

"New war gardens . . . would create the demand for equipment such as garden tools, fertilizers and sprays, which are made from materials needed by Canada's war industries, and because Canada's vegetable seed supply can best be employed by experienced gardeners with equipment in hand. . . . There is enough seed for normal production in 1942, but not sufficient for any wastage whatsoever. Canada must retain some reserve as a safeguard against possible seed crop failure in 1942.

"It has always been expected that rural communities would maintain home vegetable gardens . . . At this time, to aid in eliminating unnecessary transportation, it is more desirable than ever before that rural communities should be self-supporting in vegetables."

Because of restricted transportation there is the possibility of a vegetable shortage in many parts of Canada, perhaps during the coming Winter. There is the possibility, too, because so many agricultural workers or others who raise vegetables for their own use, are engaging in war industries and therefore have no longer time to cultivate their gardens. These and other factors enter into the picture. The soundest advice that can be given is for everyone who can and has the land to grow as many vegetables as possible, and, moreover, they should lay plans for increasing production in the future and for so long as conditions exist that will mean an increasing shortage of these foodstuffs.

FROM "IN MEMORIAM"

O, yet we trust that somehow good
Will be the final goal of ill,
To pangs of Nature, sins of will,
Defects of doubt, and taints of blood.

That nothing walks with aimless feet;
That not one life shall be destroy'd,
Or cast as rubbish to the void,
When God hath made the pile complete;

That not a worm is cloven in vain;
That not a moth with vain desire
Is shrivell'd in a fruitless fire,
Or but subserves another's gain.

Behold, we know not anything;
I can but trust that good shall fall
At last—far off—at last, to all,
And every Winter change to Spring.

So runs my dream; but what am I?
An infant crying in the night,
An infant crying for the light,
And with no language but a cry.

—Alfred Lord Tennyson.

MEMORY OF BRAVE MEN

Praise for the dead. Revere the men who knew
How good a thing was life—and knowing, died;
Who held no homes, nor loves, nor friendships true
Save such as sacrifice had sanctified.
Praise them, the happy dead, applaud their worth,
Who found a cause to die for on the earth.

Tears for the dead. They will not come again
On any pathway or to any door;
The hungry mother-arms are stretched in vain,
The maid unwed is lonely evermore.
They will not come who give to us instead
The pious memory of brave men dead.

Prayers for the dead. In some far twilit land
They cleanse them of their stains and wait the light.
Prayers most for us who need to understand
For things he loves alone a man will fight.
Their work is done. For us the calling high
To guard the simple things for which men die.

THE TRUE ECONOMY

One great lesson is again taught us, but it is never followed. Never let the Army and Navy down so low as to be obliged to go to great expense in a hurry. The true economy will be to be always ready.—Queen Victoria, Letter to Lord Beaconsfield, July 28, 1879.

Sir, for the love of God and our country, let us have with some speed some great shot sent us of all bigness; for this service will continue long; and some powder with it.—Lord Howard of Effingham.

Note and Comment

By SANDHAM GRAVES

Someone should really undertake the rewriting of nursery rhymes, so that they will be more in keeping with the true aspirations of the film-wise and comic-strip saddened inhabitants of the "modern" nursery. For instance, take that ridiculous thing about Little Jack Horner poking his thumb into his food. It is quite wrong; pernicious even. To appeal in the age of frightfulness, Little Jack Horner should read more like this:

* * * *

Little Jack Horner sat in his corner,
Before all the flaticuff throng,
Up went a shout as Joe Louis came out,
And it wasn't the gong that went bong!

There is conflict, there is assault and battery to that. Then take Little Red Ridinghood, with her ridiculous fear of the wolf—as if anyone gave a fig for the animal today, unless there were a bounty on it. Perhaps that should read:

* * *

Little Red Ridinghood,
Decked out in rare and snood,
Waited for Wolfgang Anhauser.
Wolfgang was overlate,
And so he lost the date,
Wasn't he furious—and how, sir!

* * *

Far more realistic, don't you think? Then, Jack and the Beanstalk has annoyed a lot of people, who point to the scientific fallacy contained in the spurious growth of legumes without visible means of support. In today's vein, Jack and the Beanstalk would read something like this:

* * *

So Jack climbed up the ladder, resolved to do battle with the High Cost of Living. But as fast as Jack climbed, the High Cost of Living climbed faster; so that Jack found that he had to skip three steps on the ladder and take the rest running, to remain in the race at all. It might have gone on forever, but Jack stopped, exhausted, and then the High Cost of Living let go its hold on the ladder and broke its silly neck.

* * *

The Three Little Pigs, Snow White and the Dwarfs, Cinderella, Dick Whittington, Puss in Boots, Old Mother Hubbard and all the rest of them, what good are they today? There is no frightfulness to them. They have no clash, no disaster, no tragedy. How can they hope to amuse anyone who has ever seen a two-gun picture show, or a comic strip? It is impossible! Let us, at least, rescue Cinderella:

* * *

Cinderella joined the Waac's;
It seemed the thing to do—
Although the Waafs, and also Cats
Are likewise calling you,—
And now an army doubles out
To find Cindy's missing shoe!

One could go on, but enough has been produced to show the need for a realistic revision of our nursery rhymes. What we need are shocklines, without any old-fashioned weaknesses like grace or charm to them. That was for the Nineteenth Century. The Twentieth needs something louder, noisier, and far more violent; something that will lull even little gangsters to sleep, bless their ferocious little hearts!

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours, from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

DROP LEAFLETS

VICHY, May 3 (AP).—Planes whose identity has not been announced flew over this seat of unoccupied France and over Clermont-Ferrand early today, dropping observation flares and propaganda leaflets despite some resistance from anti-aircraft ground forces.

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

From The Daily Colonist of May 6, 1892.

They Are Grateful—The residents of Amelia and Humboldt Streets are very grateful for the presence of the street sprinkler, which keeps the dust nicely laid in those busy thoroughfares. On Government Street it still blows.

Will Probably Incorporate—A meeting of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society will be held tonight for the purpose of considering the advisability of incorporating under the Benevolent Societies' Act.

Busy Aldermen—The Victoria Board of Aldermen held two special meetings yesterday for the purpose of considering the estimates of revenue and expenditures for the year, now nearly half over. Many "cuts" are being made.

The Tramway Will Come—All the residents of Oaklands and Cedar Hill districts were present at the meeting held in the schoolhouse last evening, Munroe Miller presiding, to consider the question of quick communication with the city. The report of the committee was received showing that for $35,000 a tramway line can be built, either by Hillside or Spring Ridge, which the tramway company agrees to take over on completion and have in operation by August 15.

SAANICH SCHOOLS

Sir,—A meeting of the Saanich Parents and Ratepayers' Association was held on February 10, at the Cloverdale School. The motive of this meeting was to assure the school board of the continued support of the parents in their efforts to bring into effect their pledges of election time. Also, to urge that the school estimates which were to be submitted to the council the following week be sufficient to cover school costs, and not be as they were the previous year, when the board, being asked by the people to remedy some of the more urgent needs, cried "there isn't any money."

Some of the election pledges were discussed — overcrowding, elimination of basement classrooms, and the opening of other schools, especially Lake Hill School. Three members of the school board attended: Mrs. Bryce, Mrs. Peterson, and Mr. Neilson. Mrs. Bryce stated that in her estimation our meeting was "unnecessary and premature," and that the school board needed time to accomplish things. She assured us that she had the details of the repairs, costs, etc. of the Lake Hill School at her fingertips, and quoted many facts and figures, giving us to understand she was working toward the reopening of this school.

In discussing the overcrowded situation, Mr. Neilson stated (and I quote his words as printed in The Times the following day): "The solution to this problem is the reopening of the Lake Hill School." He said the school board had been working on this problem, and it had planned to open available buildings.

We are now wondering if our meeting was so "premature" and how much more time these members need to get down to business. All of the parents in this locality, and I believe, in most of Saanich, know Mrs. Paterson's views on school affairs. She has always been against overcrowding, basement rooms, and other ills in general that are to the detriment of our children. These three members comprise the majority of the school board.

The parents are wondering how much of a majority it takes to carry a motion on the Saanich School Board. Knowing the social and political integrity of these three members, it is not reasonable for us to suppose that they would publicly say one thing and vote the opposite at a school board meeting. Saanich is justly proud of the hundreds of fine new modern homes which have been built in the last two or three years, but as no extra school accommodation has been provided, "the powers that be" must expect the new householders to be childless.

What a sad state for a nation at war!

OIL RESOURCES

Sir,—Once again I am addressing the public upon the important question of the oil resources of the Peave River district. If there were no war the public mind would be intensely focussed upon this matter, yet the war illustrates in very definite form the necessity of Government control of oil resources.

So important do I consider this matter that I wrote to Premier Hart, suggesting that the Government refer the question to the electorate by way of referendum in order to give the electors the opportunity to determine Government policy, that is to say, whether the area shall be developed by the Government for the benefit of the people, or be exploited by private endeavor. The Premier did not concur in my suggestion of a referendum and stated that the Government was prepared to accept full responsibility for any policy which may be pursued. I thereupon wrote to the Premier as follows:

"I have yours of the twenty-fifth regarding my proposal for a referendum in respect of the oil resources in the Peace River area.

"I note you point out that governmental exploration was started as far back as 1918-1923 without a referendum to the electorate to determine policy. I would point out that you propose to change the policy adopted at that time as evidenced by the legislation which you caused to be passed last session.

"I repeat that this is a matter of so great importance that I think it should be settled by the people themselves, so that no Government can run counter to the wishes of the electorate. If alienation to private interests be made now, it will be too late for the people to do anything about it except to express their disapproval at a general election and this wonderful opportunity upon behalf of the Province will have been gone."

The foregoing is self-explanatory. I urge upon all public bodies and individuals that request be made to the Government to hold a referendum in order that the electorate may determine the policy which it desires shall be pursued in respect to the oil resources in the Peace River district. This is the time to insure that this great resource shall be retained for the people and not handed over for exploitation by private interests. Now is the time to act before alienation takes place.

THEATRE PRICES

Sir,—In a letter a few days ago, an Oak Bay resident voiced displeasure at the increased prices charged at the Oak Bay Theatre for one picture when previous to price boost two were shown.

I am one of the unfortunate deaf and have to use an ear-phone. Why is it the Oak Bay Theatre charges double admission at matinee (50c) for the use of an ear-phone, when no other theatre in Canada or the United States does. The Capitol Theatre makes no extra charge and every courtesy is cheerfully given; not only does the attendant show a patron to a seat in lodges for 24c including tax, but tests ear phone to be sure it is O.K. before leaving patron.

Why should the Oak Bay Theatre discriminate against the deaf unable to pay such unfair prices.

The Observation Car

By G.B.

Lustily singing one of George Formby's humorous songs, the Keating Squire ambled along a country lane with five dozen eggs in a bucket he intended to trade for groceries at the nearest store. Suddenly a note froze on his lips as a loud shout reverberated through a hedge. "Hey squire, what about that horse of yours?" a farmer inquired as he made his way to the road. "I hope the horse is well. Nice weather we are having. Must be getting along," the squire replied as he picked up the bucket. "Wait a minute. You promised me $10 for pasturing the horse from last October to May. How about it?" the farmer asked. "Quite right, I forgot all about the critter. But look here, that horse is not worth more than $12," the squire observed. "Nevertheless I need that $10 badly to get some new parts for my separator. In fact I was counting on it. If you do not want to pay me the money perhaps I could keep the horse instead," the farmer suggested. "Let me see," the squire answered, rapidly doing some arithmetic on his fingers, "the sum of $10 from $12 leaves $2. Tell you what you do. Keep the horse for another month and you can have him" . . . Bill, the Broad Street barber, sat down to rack his brains over a crossword puzzle. "Wake up. Here come three customers," the boss urged from the front of the shop. "Please don't disturb my train of thought," Bill replied. "Your train of thought is nothing but a string of empties," the boss answered . . . Heard along Vancouver Street. "How did your tulip bulbs come up this Spring?" "They came up quite well with the assistance of that wire-haired terrier next door" . . . The man next door rested on his lawnmoker when he noticed four urchins with dirty hands and faces leave a mud puddle on Pendergast Street and scamper along Vancouver Street. "Here comes the march of grime," he laughed.

DOGS FOR SERVICES

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—The Government is calling for more dogs for war service—to guard airdromes and factories and to carry messages. It asked dog owners to lend their pets to the Government for the duration, expressing particular interest in Alsatians, Airedales, collies, terriers, mastiffs and bulldogs "or crosses between them."

According to Culbertson

There are "tricks of the trade" at duplicate bridge which inexpert players would do well to study. For example, it sometimes is difficult to decide whether to stop at a small slam or to go on for the larger reward of a grand slam. In these cases there often is available a sort of temporizing bid. North used it to advantage in the following hand:

Match point duplicate.
North dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ A 10 6 4
♥ A Q
♦ K 9 6 3
♣ K Q 5

WEST
♠ K Q 7 5
♥ J 8 4 3
♦ J 5 2
♣ J 6

EAST
♠ J 9 3 2
♥ 10 6 5 2
♦ 8
♣ 10 9 8 2

SOUTH
♥ K 9 7
♦ A Q 10 7 4
♣ A 7 3 2

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 N.T.	Pass	2 ♦	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 ♣	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	5 ♦	Pass
6 N.T.	Pass	7 ♦	Pass
Pass	Pass

There was nothing remarkable in this sequence of bidding. Each bid spoke more or less for itself, but I should like to call North's six no trump bid to my readers attention.

North was on the fence, whether to stop a small slam or to go on to a seven bid. He did not like to make the final decision solely on his own responsibility, hence adopted the simple expedient of bidding six no trump. This bid had two separate virtues. First, since the game was match point duplicate, North realized that it would not be advisable to play at diamonds if a mere small slam were the final contract. The higher scoring value of no trump would give a great superiority in a match point sense, and there did not seem to be much question that the combined hands would take twelve tricks at no trump. The second virtue of North's bid was that, if South really had unbalanced distribution and strongly preferred a suit contract, he would of course, bid for a grand slam in his suit. Expert duplicate players naturally do not bid six no trump unless they are prepared to play at that denomination, but given that ability, they make the bid as a combination effort to invite seven or (if the invitation is declined), to play at the higher trick score.

South felt morally certain that the hand would play one trick better at diamonds than at no trump, hence went to seven diamonds. His judgment proved sound. Seven diamonds was an absolute laydown, whereas North could have made only twelve tricks at no trump.

ON THE RECORD

—By DOROTHY THOMPSON

WEAKNESS AS A POLITICAL WEAPON

Washington is wracking its brain to understand what is happening in both Italy and Germany, and is warning about faked internal disturbances and the beginning of a Peace Offensive.

That Italy and Germany want peace is certain. They will never be able to make peace under better conditions than an acknowledgement of the now existing status would be. If the offer which the Free French News Agency published Thursday is correct, such a peace would amount to a tremendous victory for the Fascist alliance. It would leave Germany the control of the whole of Europe, a free hand in Russia, and a vast empire overseas.

Such a peace is, of course, insupportable, and of course it would only be a breathing space during which Germany could prepare to strike again in two or three years for the conquest of the world. And, of course, it would have huge consequences inside all nations; for the existence in the centre of the world of a fascist block embracing half a billion people, without the European colonies, would give an upper hand to all the Fascists in Britain and the Americas. Even the so-called advantages offered, for instance arrangements for trade between the three "empires," would open the world to Fascist penetration. For—as Douglas Miller trenchantly points out—you can't trade in any ordinary way with the Nazi-Fascist setup, but would have to organize along their lines.

SIGN OF WEAKNESS

Now this peace offensive is unique in that it is accompanied by a demonstration, not of strength, but of weakness.

The defeat of Germany in the last Winter campaign on the Western front is not final, but it is very real. On some important points, for instance between Vitebsk and Bryansk, the German armies are now standing where they stood at the end of July, 1941. And up to now they have not regained the initiative.

Furthermore, the air superiority of the British appears obvious, and every forecast for the development of air power is on our side. So the German offer that we acknowledge her victory comes in an awkward moment for Germany.

But has Germany any political weapons, any plan for a political offensive, which she is likely to make?

I think yes, and I think we shall go through it this Summer.

It is to be discerned from what Germany is telling her own people and allowing the world to hear.

For Germany is in the odd situation of being able—she thinks—to make a threat out of her weakness. And in the Hearsts and McCormicks and Pattersons of this country she expects to find aids. This threat is to tell the world: Imagine what will happen if we are beaten! Germany threatens with suicide—threatens with surrender to the Russians alone; threatens to open the gates to "the Bolshevik hordes," in the hope that the world will then rush to Hitler's rescue with peace, and even accept his terms.

OLD GERMAN GAME

Now this is the oldest of all the German games. I say "German" rather than Nazi, because the German Republic played this game, too. Whenever any demand was made by Germany, it was backed by the threat, "If we are not helped, Germany will go Communist." This reached its climax when Hitler brought down the German Republic itself with the same slogan: "Either me or Communism." It gained further successes in the first years of appeasement. That was what Ribbentrop told Chamberlain in order to get the concessions that led to Munich. "Either me or Communism" is, therefore, nothing new. But the weakness of Germany at this moment, gives a new opportunity to play the old game.

There are several answers to this. The first is that Great Britain and America are in a position to have an agreement with Russia, and that on the record we can trust such an agreement. For so far Russia has kept her international obligations on every single count, whereas the [illegible]

Second, by giving in to such a blackmail, we would only lose the chance of ever having a well-organized Europe. In our sense of the word—a Europe with legitimate institutions, and law and order. Whatever remained of such institutions in Germany was destroyed at one blow by Hitler last Sunday.

And third, this is no way by which Hitler could save himself or his regime. Such a decision would result in a complete overturn in Germany and all over Europe, and it would take the British and American armies plus the Russian to maintain any semblance of order.

WITHOUT PRINCIPLES

So the whole concept is another of those Hitlerian ideas, perfectly logical and perfectly insane, because without any principles, and without any view on the moral and social structure of Germany and the whole of Europe.

We, however, ought to exploit it for our side by exposing it. The real danger in this is not that governments will be deceived. It is the danger of its being used for the sort of secret negotiations between private groups that have gone on since the beginning of this war. Its political danger is a propaganda danger, not a diplomatic one.

Never be afraid of the weakness of your enemies; nor of their threats of suicide. Let us only see to our own strength and prepare for the establishment of an orderly world. And tell the German people about it.

FLYERS MAKE EPIC VOYAGE

Twelve Airmen Navigate Lifeboat Over 1,500 Miles of Open Sea

MELBOURNE, Australia, May 5 (AP).—Twelve air force men have reached Australia after sailing for forty-four days across 1,500 miles of open sea from Java in a lifeboat, a feat which naval authorities acclaimed as one of the great open-boat voyages of history.

Royal Air Force Wing Commander Jeudwine was permitted today to tell the story of the navigation feat in which he and his companions, eight Australians and three other Britons, made good their escape from the Japanese-occupied Dutch East Indies.

They were becalmed and storm-damaged. They were menaced by a whale. They were seen—but ignored—by a Japanese submarine and unseen by an Australian flying boat which they hopefully sighted.

When the escape was planned, Jeudwine related, only two lifeboats and one motorboat could be found.

When they set out March 6, he said, there were thirty men in each lifeboat and five in the motorboat, along with a limited food supply, a sextant, two compasses and one map.

BOATS WRECKED

Unfortunately, the motorboat and one lifeboat were wrecked in a narrow passage and all but the chosen dozen—picked just as an air crew would be for a flight—had to stay behind.

Jeudwine said the crew of twelve completed the refugees set sail again at dusk of March 7, leaving behind an inferno in the town where the Dutch had blown up installations.

After being becalmed through the first night, Jeudwine related, a slight breeze sprang up the next afternoon and the little boatload had just begun to move "when a Japanese submarine surfaced a mile astern of us."

"Her conning tower opened and we saw a Japanese officer scrutinizing us through binoculars. She approached within fifty yards, made a half-circle, then sailed away."

The rudder broke during a storm, he said, and three Australians appointed themselves a committee of shipwrights and worked three days to fix it. Again, a violent storm tore the repaired rudder loose once more and the men patched it up with another thirty-six hours of toil with makeshift tools and bits of wire.

Jeudwine told how rescuers finally sighted them and flew them to the mainland after they had put ashore on Fraser Island, a tiny, sandy mound, which lies only four miles off the coast of Western Australia.

"After forty-four days at sea we were like drunken men," he said.

Spending Furlough at Home Here

L.V.A. DICK WATSON

SON of Mrs. H. D. Watson, Watson Street, Dean Heights, is at present at home on leave. He has been absent in the East for twenty-two months, the greater part of the time being engaged on convoy duty.

"Our legs would not support us and most of us promptly fell over. But after breakfast we set off again.

"We saw a flying boat and flashed mirrors at it, but it passed on. Later it turned out that the pilot thought we were a pearling lugger.

"The next day we saw another flying boat and raised a pajama jacket as a signal of distress. The boat alighted and the pilot was extremely cautious, but eventually he offered to take six of us aboard. Only three volunteered.

"The rest resumed the boat voyage, but the next day he again appeared and said he had orders that we be taken aboard and flown to Australia.

"Our health was remarkably good. There were some ulcers, abrasions and eye trouble from the exposure.

"We made a point of swimming overside daily."

RIVER BOATS READY TO START SCHEDULES

EDMONTON, May 5 (CP).—Operations on Northern river systems will begin Thursday at Waterways, when boats of the Hudson's Bay Company department of transport, Mackenzie River division, and the Northern Transportation Company set out from Waterways en route to Fitzgerald.

Both companies' boats are scheduled to leave on the two-day trip about the same time, officials said today after receiving reports of the ice clearing on the Athabaska River.

Each boat will carry approximately 300 tons of freight and a crew of about ten men.

WILL BUILD SEINERS

VANCOUVER, May 5 (CP).—Twelve seventy-eight-foot $60,000 sea-going seiners have been ordered from Vancouver and the Star Shipyards (Mercers), Limited, at New Westminster, by private interests. The boats are being partially subsidized by the Dominion Government. Eleven of the vessels have been ordered by the Big Five Fishing Company group.

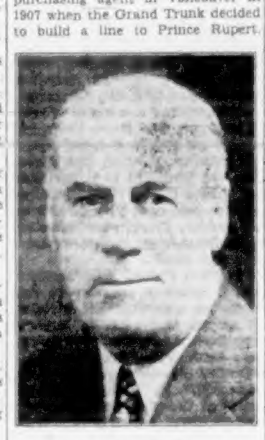
DEATH SUMMONS RAIL VETERAN

Former General Passenger Agent of C.N.R. Passes In Vancouver

Former general passenger agent in Vancouver for the Canadian National Railways, George A. McNicholl, sixty-six, died suddenly last night after half a century of service with the railroad in which he became widely known all across Canada.

Mr. McNicholl retired on July 31, 1941, after a career which started in 1889 at $8.33 a month as a machinist's apprentice when he was thirteen.

A native of Montreal, Mr. McNicholl came to British Columbia in 1902 when he was one of the Grand Trunk Pacific's selected staff on the Royal train during the Canadian tour of the then Duke and Duchess of York. Mr. McNicholl was made purchasing agent in Vancouver in 1907 when the Grand Trunk decided to build a line to Prince Rupert.



G. A. McNICHOLL

Later he was moved to Prince Rupert, and later still he became superintendent at Prince Rupert and then commissioner of colonization and industries.

In 1915 Mr. McNicholl was promoted to assistant general freight and passenger agent at Prince Rupert and in 1923 was named general passenger agent at Vancouver.

Mr. McNicholl traveled much during his railroading career and in one year actually rode 60,000 miles. He had always had an ambition to take a long sea journey, but outbreak of war forced him to abandon this after his retirement.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

NAVAL PRESS LIAISON OFFICER REACHES CITY

Lieut. A. O. Tate, newly-appointed press liaison officer to the Naval Pacific Command, arrived in Victoria over the week-end to take up his duties here.

Lieutenant Tate joined the naval service in July, 1940, and was posted overseas with the Royal Canadian Navy destroyer force. He served on convoy duty for eleven months. Returning to Ottawa, he served as photographic officer there until appointed P.L.O. on this coast. He is a former newspaperman and was on the staff of The Toronto Star.

GOOD SCORE OF GERMAN PLANES

French-Canadian Ace Bags Five Sure and Possibly Fourteen Messerschmitts

MONTREAL, May 5 (CP).—P.O. Lawrence (Larry) Robillard, twenty-one, of Ottawa, says it's "lots of fun picking off Messerschmitts at the rate of three in four minutes," but he still doesn't know how he survived the nervous ordeal of visiting Buckingham Palace to receive a Distinguished Flying Medal from the King's own hand.

The fighter pilot—French Canada's first entry on the Dominion's air ace roster—was in Montreal today, home from many months of adventure in the skies above his Nazi-infested ancestral home.

He didn't mind telling about his score of German planes—five official and fourteen unofficial—because, he said, "our fighter planes have always been superior to Jerry's."

P.O. Robillard shot down three Messerschmitts to protect a comrade who had bailed out over occupied France. Seconds later the left wing was blasted from his own Spitfire which plummeted earthwards while he struggled to free himself.

A miraculous explosion shattered his plane, shot him free and released his parachute ripcord. Thirty seconds later he was "on the deck."

Six weeks later he was back on the job boosting his total to "five officials." But what happened in those weeks must remain "between me, the French people and the lamppost," he said.

Mine of Salvage Rubber Is Ready To Be Picked Up

VANCOUVER, May 5 (CP).—A veritable mine of salvage rubber for Canada's wartime use stands ready for the taking in the thousands of old tires which serve as buffers on the wharves, berths and landing places along British Columbia's lengthy coastline and on the thousands of big and small boats plying the coastal waters.

Coastal fishermen say that if the Dominion's requirements of 50,000,000 pounds of scrap rubber by the end of May cannot be met by other means, the whole amount might be picked up along the British Columbia coast.

The fishermen point out that yachts, small coast vessels and the entire fishing fleet use old automobile tires as fenders and bumpers. Many of them carry a dozen of the discarded casings and the majority from four to six. Whole sections of landing floats are lined with whole or sections of the tire casings.

Fishermen say loss of the old casings would be an inconvenience but they point out that rope cushions were used before old car tires became so abundant, and before the rope came into use ships carried long wooden fenders to guard their sides against scraping. The wooden fenders could be used again, the fishermen say.

SURVIVORS OF SHIPS LANDED

Eighty-Eight Seamen, Several Canadians Included, Reach Florida Port

COCOA, Fla., May 5 (AP).—Eighty-eight survivors—some of them Canadians—from two torpedoed freighters, one British and one of the United Nations, have reached safety with spectacular stories of a heroic naval rescue at sea and of a gun crew that risked death to keep firing upon an Axis submarine.

The United States Navy revealed today that the two vessels fell victims to torpedoes off the Eastern United States Coast early on the morning of Sunday, May 3. Twenty-three men lost their lives in the sinkings.

Seventeen of them died when a torpedo struck their lifeboat as it was being lowered over the port side of the medium-sized United Nations freighter. Another of the ship's crew was killed, and forty-six survivors were brought to an East Coast naval air station.

The other five were killed in the engine-room of the medium-sized British freighter, from which forty-two survivors were brought to the naval station.

When the British ship was torpedoed and began to sink, John Park, senior pilot, of Vancouver, B.C., gave orders for the ship to be abandoned.

"I had given the order," he said, "when the gunner came to me and told me that he thought he could see the sub. He begged me to let him try to hit it. I told him to go ahead, but we were settling all the time."

The gunner, Sid Webber, of Beansville, Ont., said fifteen shots were fired and several near-misses were scored on the submarine.

"I don't know that we did any damage," he reported.

A twenty-two-year-old seaman, Eddie Flaherty, of Liverpool, England, went back to the sinking ship from his lifeboat to get the picture of his mother, now dead, from a cabin, then rejoined his shipmates.

WOODEN TRAWLERS TO BE BUILT ON COAST

OTTAWA, May 5 (CP).—Munitions Minister Howe said today that plans are under way to build wooden fishing trawlers in British Columbia Coast yards.

The minister said he does not know how many of the fishing craft will be built. He added that so far as he knows there is no intention at present to build larger wooden vessels at the Coast.

A large programme for construction of steel merchant ships of 10,000 tons in under way now at the Coast and there is some construction, too, of smaller-type naval craft.

Beaver Club Dance

Spring was in the air last evening at the Empress Hotel when flowered trellises, hung with dainty bird cages, and large tulips and irises in many shades, made the attractive setting for the Beaver Club dance, held in aid of the Queen Alexandra Solarium April Shower of Dimes Fund. Over 400 danced to the music of a popular ten-piece orchestra, and an original touch was the presentation of blue grass perfume to all ladies. The pupils of Miss Florence Clough gave their service for a military floor show, which was enthusiastically applauded. In charge of the event were Miss Babs Hogarth, convener, and Misses Mary Frost, Bunny Grevette, Helen Humber, Matty Brand, Dorothy Harper, and Messrs. ST. ANDREW'S

The regular meeting of the Young People's Society of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Monday evening, Margaret Stewart, president, in the chair. A short devotional service was conducted by Margaret Gray, assisted by Nancy Cameron. A discussion, "Which Has the More Influence, Family Tradition or Family Upbringing?" was held. Games brought the evening to a close. On Sunday a sing-song will be held in the lecture room after the evening service. Light refreshments are to be served. All young people—men on active service especially—are cordially invited.

Weddings

FILION—TRUESDALE

DUNCAN, May 5.—Baskets of Spring flowers were arranged by friends of the bride in Duncan United Church for the wedding this afternoon of Margaret Roxborough, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Truesdale, of Somenos, and Rifleman Donald Edward Filion, Victoria Rifles of Canada, son of Mr. E. M. Filion, of Ruthergien, Ont., and the late Mrs. Filion.

Rev. W. F. Burns performed the ceremony. The bride's cousin, Miss Muriel Evans, played the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, Miss Margaret White sang "Through the Years."

The bride, who was given away by her father, was lovely in her floor-length wedding dress of white sheer, made with shirred waistline, square neck and long, full sleeves. Swiss embroidery trimmed the bodice and sleeves. She wore a Juliet cap of silver sequins and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, lilies of the valley and forget-me-nots. Her sister, Miss Doreen Truesdale, in a long frock of Pacific blue sheer, pale pink hat and pink lace mitts, made a pretty bridesmaid. Her bouquet was made of pale pink carnations and mauve sweet peas. Rifleman J. H. Stevens was best man.

A reception was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, which was gay with Spring blooms. Mrs. Truesdale received the guests in a becoming dress of old rose silk crepe, worn with navy hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink rosebuds and sweet peas.

At the bride's table, which was covered with a lace cloth and centred with the wedding cake, vases of pink carnations and roses and cream tapers in crystal holders, Mrs. W. H. Truesdale and Mrs. E. Castley, aunts of the bride, poured tea. The toast was proposed by Rev. W. F. Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Filion left for a honeymoon after the reception, Mrs. Filion traveling in a smart two-piece dress of Queen's blue, matching hat and beige coat and accessories.

WOOD—McINTYRE

Nuptial mass was solemnized in St. Joseph's Hospital chapel, at 9:30 yesterday morning, by Rev. Father Albury, when Miss Isobel McIntyre, R.N., a popular member of the staff and only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McIntyre, Kamloops, B.C., became the bride of Mr. James Wood, youngest son of the late Mr. George Wood and Mrs. Wood, 1035 Fairfield Road. The bride was given in marriage by her aunt, Mrs. R. Mudie, and wore a blue ensemble with a white hat trimmed with flowers, a corsage bouquet of pale pink sweet peas and lily of the valley and carried a white prayer-book. Miss Gertrude Rigby, R.N., the bridesmaid, was dressed in grey with navy and white accessories and a corsage bouquet of yellow rosebuds, and Mr. Roger Weicker was best man. The wedding breakfast for immediate relatives was held at Mount St. Mary, the couple leaving in the afternoon to visit the bride's parents in Kamloops. Mr. and Mrs. Wood will make their home in Victoria.

Murder on the Avenue

CHAPTER XXXII

"You don't know who went in that room after you came out?" Bliss asked Herrick.

"I can't help thinking it was Haynes, but he says he was before me."

"If, so, who was it, then?"

"I don't know. They quizzed Haynes, Murray, Martin Delevan and me, and then decided on me. I didn't declaim much. Anything I could say would cast suspicion on some of the others there, and I didn't want to do that."

"You were too darned careful of their feelings, my boy. It all isn't so good."

"Fine bit of understatement. Where do we go from here?"

"Unless we're mighty careful, you'll go to Sing Sing. Shall I call in Chadwick? Then you can refuse to talk to anybody without counsel."

"Do what you think best. I seem not to have any ideas at all. I'm—I'm flabbergasted, Bliss. How could they think I killed her? She was too pretty to kill—too young and sweet."

"What ails you, man? Stop that drivel! Have you lost your mind?"

"Yes, I guess so. How long must I stay here?"

Clarence Bliss looked at him. He was about to speak sternly, but changed his mind.

"Not long," he said mildly. "It's up to you. You're the boss, you know. Now, give me my orders."

"Yes. Well, go and get Chadwick, then. Don't get Wade. He's Alma's lawyer."

"Then Chadwick would be all for Mr. McCleod. Not so good for you, maybe."

"Nonsense! Chadwick is nobody's fool. If I can't convince him of my innocence I can't convince anybody. Tell him how things are, and tell him I want him—quick!"

"Glad you've waked up. Now, I'll send him to you here."

"Yes—" Herrick made a queer sound in his throat. Being a canny person, Clarence Bliss went out. In about an hour Robert Chadwick came. Understanding was written in every line of his strong lean face. A middle-aged man and a lawyer of good repute, he knew these two younger men, and he came at Bliss' request.

Soon Chadwick was listening to the story told by a man who had come to realize his own danger and the necessity for action. Bliss knew his partner had done right when he left Brand on the verge of an emotional breakdown.

Left to himself, Herrick had faced the facts, picked up his courage and met the situation with the calm habitual to him.

He had greeted Chadwick gravely, and at the lawyer's bidding, had plunged into the narration of the affair.

"Why they picked on me, I don't know," he said, at last. "I didn't kill Mrs. McCleod. I had no reason and no wish to. I knew her only in a social way. I never went to see her alone. I never took her anywhere."

"I believe all you have told me, Mr. Herrick," was Chadwick's response. "And as I knew Mrs. McCleod rather well, I think perhaps I understand the situation better than you do. Mrs. McCleod was a spoiled belle. Her husband worshipped her; her friends adored her and she was accustomed to have every man she met fall at her feet. I take it you did not succumb to her lures and it displeased and surprised her. Unaccustomed to failure, she determined to win you. Would that explain her actions?"

"[illegible] cannot imagine Mrs. McCleod caring for my attentions enough to make an effort to win them!"

"It may have been because you seemed unattainable. That is often a stimulus. Now, tell me again the order in which you four men were in that coat room."

"But that's what I can't do. The more I think it over, the more I can't remember clearly about seeing the men. You know yourself that you would find it hard to recall any such trifling events, not thinking that you would need to remember. I did see Haynes in the hall; that I am sure of; but whether before or after I was in the room myself, I don't know. I came out of the room with a feeling of embarrassment. I was angry at myself for getting into such a fix—"

"Such a fix as what?"

"Such a fix as having a beautiful lady beseeching me to make love to her, when I had no inclination toward her. I am not a Lothario type, Mr. Chadwick. Although I admired Mrs. McCleod's beauty, I had no affection for her."

"And her advances made you only the less inclined to care for her?"

"Exactly. They irritated me and puzzled me. Tell me, Chadwick, could her affairs with other men have so enraged her husband that—"

Silver Wings Drive Passes Its Objective

The two weeks' Silver Wings drive of the W.A. to the Air Services went over the top, surpassing its objective of $500, the total to date being $533. Mrs. H. W. Blenkinsop, the president, announced at the business meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A. Mrs. Blenkinsop thanked the members for their work in the various projects which were sponsored during the two weeks. The sewing convener, Mrs. W. D. Brewster, reported nine articles turned in to the Red Cross during the month, and regretfully announced her resignation from the convenership. Due to the changing needs of the men and a possible shortage of wool, the auxiliary voted to begin making jerkins to take the place of sweaters, and arrangements were made to hold meetings of the sewing group at the Y.W.C.A. on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

WORK FOR W.A.A.F.'S

A request from Wing Officer L. M. Crowther for comforts for the W.A.A.F.'s was recognized, and the auxiliary agreed to take on this added work. Mrs. L. Campbell, knitting convener, reported forty-five articles turned in during the month, the next knitting meeting to be held at her home, 1960 Beach Drive, on on May 19. Mrs. H. E. Hales, cigarette convener, reported that cigarettes had been sent to thirty-three men during the month, and stated that the number of Victoria airmen has doubled. Funds were requested to provide sixty-six parcels of cigarettes each month.

Mrs. Fred Spencer told members that a generous response to requests for magazines had brought 227 magazines this month. Reports were received from Mrs. Noel Eaton, Lady Emily Walker and Mrs. W. H. Molson on the success of their enterprises. Mrs. E. Martin will have charge of the cakes for the Sidney Hostess House. A cake contest, convened by Mrs. Shaw, was won by Mrs. John Ewing. Letters of appreciation were read from the men in remote air station for the comforts they had received from the W.A. A cable of thanks from Air Vice-Marshal H. Edwards was also read.

P.-T.A. Activities

OAKLANDS

A silver tea will be held at the home of Mrs. George Rumsby, 1210 Old Esquimalt Road, tomorrow from 2 to 5 p.m. The proceeds of the afternoon will be devoted to the purchase of materials for the sewing group's work for "bombed-out" victims. Those attending are advised to take the Esquimalt street car to Fraser Street and walk across the park. Mr. L. A. Gordon was in the chair at the monthly meeting held on Monday evening, and plans were made for a Red Cross tea to be held on May 15 in the school auditorium. Mrs. R. H. McInnes, as general convener, asked for donations of flowers and home-made bread. Mr. McLorie gave a report on the new hospital room just completed, to be used by the school doctor, dentist and nurse when interviewing the pupils of the school, and also as a sick room in case of accidents. Mrs. G. Hughes and Mrs. A. Smith were the winners of the attendance prizes. The social evening was in charge of Miss G. Tanner, who arranged group contests. Mrs. C. Wilson and the social committee served refreshments.

JAMES BAY

Mrs. D. B. Cantell, the president, was in the chair at the meeting of the James Bay association, held in South Park School library last evening. Delegates to the recent convention held in Vancouver gave extensive reports of the sessions, and were complimented by School Trustee F. G. Mulliner. Two members to receive diplomas for having completed the P.-T.A. leadership course were Mrs. H. Moore and Mrs. A. McKiernon. Plans were made for the patriotic pageant to be held at Macdonald Park on May 25, when the association will undertake the costumes for the South Park entries. Mrs. R. Duncan reported for the study group in the absence of the convener, Mrs. R. Patenaude. She mentioned the recent tea for parents held at the Kingston Street School and announced that the next meeting would be held at her home, 155 Clarence Street, on May 14, at 2:30 p.m. Miss Mae Murray's and Miss R. Brown's classes tied for the attendance prize.

Gay Victory Fair Draws Attendance Of Four Thousand

Women's Canadian Club and Kinsmen Club Responsible for Project Which Will Aid A.R.P. Work and Bombed Babies' Milk Funds

VICTORIANS—men, women and children—nearly 4,000 of them, went to the fair yesterday and as a result of the all-out effort of the Women's Canadian Club and the Kinsmen Club, a gratifying sum was raised for A.R.P. work in Victoria and for the Kinsmen Milk Fund for bombed-out babies in Britain.

The United Nations Victory Fair, it was called, and the tremendous amount of work entailed in collecting the countless exhibits loaned by Victorians for stalls representing all those nations arrayed against the Axis powers, reflected the greatest possible credit upon those responsible for the success of the undertaking.

The brilliant coloring, enhanced by a brilliant sun which shone through the glass dome of the Crystal Garden, the costumes, the music and the thrilling crowd of visitors made a memorable picture throughout the afternoon and in the evening there were games, dancing, moving pictures, diving displays and countless other attractions to draw the crowds and to contribute to the fun of the fair.

FAIR OPENED

The fair was opened at 2.30 o'clock by Mrs. W. C. Woodward, who was accompanied by her secretary, Miss Ruth Maclean. Mrs. Woodward was welcomed to the official stand by Mrs. T. H. Johns, president of the Women's Canadian Club and by Mr. Harold Bourne, president of the Kinsmen. Mr. J. Price, as master of ceremonies, made the official announcements. Against a background of flags and standing between two beautiful flower arrangements of blue iris, red tulips and white bridal wreath, Mrs. Woodward, who was introduced by Mrs. Johns, made a gracious little speech, expressing her hopes for the success of the fair and congratulating the organizers. She was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers.

In a brief speech, Mr. Bourne spoke of the Kinsmen's gift of one-and-one-half million quarts of milk supplied to London babies and added that it was the hope of the club that another two-and-one-half million quarts would be provided by the end of July. "The milk is for the babies of those gallant people who hold the fort," he said in conclusion.

Mrs. Johns warmly thanked the conveners and workers and added a special word of thanks to the merchants who had been so generous in making contributions, and to the press for valuable publicity. Mrs. Cassidy, who for many years has worked on behalf of her native Belgium, presented the Belgian flag to Mr. Eekman, Belgian Consul, which he acknowledged in a brief speech.

PARADE OF NATIONS

Then began the parade of nations. As the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. William Tickle, struck up the strains of "O Canada" and "The Maple Leaf," a group of dancers appeared and crossed the bridge which had been erected over the Crystal Pool. South America followed, represented by dancers in costume; then Jugoslavia, then a group of little dancers come to life. They received a great ovation and were quickly followed by Highland lassies with pipes and drums and they, in turn, took their places on the bridge, playing "Bonnie Dundee." Mexicans in bright striped costumes; a little Dutch boy and girl representing the Netherlands; a Russian boy and girl and a child in costume representing the Stars and Stripes, walked alongside a Union Jack—costumed child, symbolic of the unity between the two peoples. "God Bless America" was the theme tune and the children danced to "Yankee Doodle." Gorgeous Chinese costumes worn by two attractive young girls, two Irish colleens, a pair of smart young Australians, a Norwegian and a Polish group, followed by two inky-black Kaffirs, representing South Africa were all applauded, and as the finale there appeared a group of sailors and sailorettes who danced the hornpipe, the orchestra ending the parade with "There'll Always Be An England." Pupils of the following dancing schools took part: Miss Florence Clough, Miss Wynne Shaw, Miss Violet Fowkes, Miss Lilian Grant and the Highlands Lassies' Pipe Band, as well as the Chinese girls.

TEA ROOM

The Belgian tea room in the south ballroom was thronged throughout the afternoon, the long refreshment buffet with its bright red and white striped awning being particularly effective, while on the tea tables were vases of red, blue and yellow flowers. Mrs. F. M. Bryant and Mrs. Walter Luney were the conveners of the tea room.

The stalls of the nations were beautiful and so many were the interesting loan exhibits that visitors found themselves returning again and again to examine in detail the embroideries, the brasses, the fine jewelry and the curios, and in many instances to sample the tempting confections typical of each country which had been made for sale.

SUGARLESS CANDY

An interesting point about the candy stall, in charge of Mrs. Norman Whittaker at which a busy band of helpers did a thriving trade, was that all the candy was made without sugar in compliance with the Government regulations. Perhaps it was the novelty, or perhaps the candies were too irresistible, at any rate, every one was sold. Mrs. W. G. Flett had charge of a fish pond, which was an attraction for the children, and its painted fish screen was both novel and cleverly done. Another outstanding stall was that at which plants and flowers were sold by Mrs. C. H. Orme and her committee. Wisteria formed the background, clematis trailed over the framework of the stall and an exquisite arrangement of tulips, lilac, lily of the valley, potted hydrangeas as well as flats of plants ready for the garden attracted eager purchasers. Trays of dainty little boutonnieres sold by Mrs. J. Flinmore and other flower sellers were an attraction. The A.R.P., the Red Cross, the dietetic stall, the Salvage Corps exhibit, in which the helpers were dressed in rubber and rags, were reminders in attractive form of the grimmer aspects of the thought underlying the fair itself.

UNITED NATIONS

As for the exhibits from the various countries, space does not permit a detailed account of each for, individually, they represented so much of the history and art of the nations concerned that each was in a study in itself. The United States, including Hawaii, Panama and Alaska, under the direction of Mrs. J. O. Cameron, was full of interest, and among the articles for sale were candies from well-known confection houses throughout the country, while delicious punch was sold by grass-skirted Hawaiian maidens. Abraham Lincoln's chair attracted a good deal of attention. The South American group, in charge of Miss Hazel Wright, was particularly gay, baskets of oranges, lemons and peanuts which were being sold by a "native" girl seated under a bright awning making a vivid note of color, while alongside lime punch was ladled from a huge bowl by the attractive convener.

The Mexican stall, with Mrs. T. A. Rickard in charge, showed gay embroideries and baskets, glassware, flowers and pottery, while recipes for Mexican dishes and a tempting chile con carne found many purchasers. Next door was the stall representing Greece and Yugoslavia, in charge of the United States Consul, Mr. Reed Paige Clark and Mrs. Clark, both of whom wore elaborate and very beautiful costumes.

Here again were exquisite embroideries, old copper, trays and utensils, a choice Bosnian rug, which was the prize in a contest, and some very fine old woven cushions and rug, the brilliance of the colors being noteworthy. Mr. Clark served Serbian coffee in the style of that country. An autographed print of a photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Clark in costume, sold for $5.

RUSSIA

The costumes worn by Mrs. H. L. Smith, convener, and her helpers at the Russian stall were very beautiful and some rare embroideries were used as an effective background, the front of the stall being adorned with sheaves of wheat. An exhibit of exquisite needlework by the New Canadian Women's Club, of Blaine Lake, Sask., which had been sent for the fair, was noteworthy.

Mrs. Marcel Godfrey was convener of the Poland and Czecho-Slovakia stall, at which her helpers appeared in the beautiful costumes of those countries. Examples of rare old Bohemian glass, embroideries, and cleverly-made little novelty lapel models of dancing girls as well as "Victory Bells" were grouped round a model in which was placed a costume brought from Czecho-Slovakia and perfect in every detail.

DUTCH TULIPS

The Y.W.C.A. board, with Mrs. J. D. Hunter as convener, had arranged the Netherlands stall at which cocoa and Dutch cookies were sold as well as masses of bright tulips. The backdrop of the stall had been painted by Mrs. Madelon Kerr, a Dutch woman who has lived for many years in Java. Dutch recipes were also sold in attractive booklets.

Mrs. R. W. Mayhew was convener of the stall representing Norway and Denmark, and at this were sold many delicious cakes and cookies, a special Norwegian almond cake holding the place of honor on the stall. Examples of lovely weaving and handwork were both interesting and beautiful.

Nearby was the Free French stall with Mrs. Howard Archibald and Mme. Sanderson-Mongin in charge, and a genuine Brittany costume worn by one of the helpers was of great interest. Several novelties bearing the insignia of Free France were on sale.

CHINESE STALL

The Chinese stall, Mrs. Charles Hudson and Mr. J. Hope-ae joint conveners, had all the charm of the Orient, and some exquisite embroideries, together with the costumes worn by the helpers, made a singularly beautiful note of color in the room. Next door was India, in charge of Mrs. Stuart Kenning, and here were rare old pieces: ancient weapons, rugs, shawls, embroideries, pictures and brasses brought here by former residents of the great sub-continent were there, and nearby a fortune teller from Iran and a seller of beautiful beads and jewelry added a further note of Eastern splendor.

A model of a Kaffir hut and a stall of interesting curios from South Africa, including ostrich plumes, an ostrich egg drinking cup, carved ivory cocktail picks and basketwork, were in charge of Mrs. R. H. Palmer and her committee; a collection of English chintzes, beautiful fabrics and a disply exhibit of foodstuffs imported from England were the outstanding points of the stall representing England, with Mrs. H. V. Bartholomew in charge. Two little fair-haired girls sold potpourri.

Mrs. Duncan MacBride was convener of the Australia and New Zealand stall, and koala bears, models of Maori carving, pictures and posters, the skin of the duck-billed platypus and a Maori feather-trimmed cape were of interest. Mrs. W. H. Wilson was in charge of Scotland's stall, on which were many treasures, including a chair from the Orkney Islands, a Hebridean pattern rug, a granite biscuit jar of rare design, a tea caddy and horn which had belonged to Robert Burns, as well as such good things as pancakes, oatcakes, scones, shortbread and haggis.

Miss Thomas was convener of the collection from Wales, and she and her helpers in their tall Welsh hats, their shawls and their aprons made a charming picture behind their stall of curios. Among the exhibits was a 300-year-old Bible.

Palestine, too, was represented, Mrs. Levy assisting at the stall, and brasses, filigree silver jewelry, soaps from Palestine and a collection of pressed flowers from the Holy Land were on exhibition.

Mrs. F. Patterson and Mrs. H. Kinghorn did a brisk business at the Pantry Shelf, and the white elephant stall produced some amazing bric-a-brac. The beautiful leathercraft of the Kiwanis stall was in great demand.

Mrs. S. J. Willis and Mrs. F. M. McGregor were responsible for the general scheme of decorations and a large committee assisted with the many details connected with the fair.

There were contests of all kinds and many valuable prizes, the outstanding award of the evening being a three-months-old heifer, whose "sad brown eyes," as described by the announcer, proved irresistible to all patrons.

Among the games played were roulette, bingo, crown and anchor, the explanations at the roulette table being in French and English. The "Klondikers," who were in charge of the games, wore costumes characteristic of the trail of '98.

The fashion show, arranged by Mrs. T. A. Johnston, and presented by Mrs. Trevor Roberts, Mrs. G. H. Simons, Mrs. Borden, Mrs. McMorran, Mrs. Jack Hewitt, Mrs. Grace Stuart, Miss Peggy Jones, Miss Ruth Gardiner and Miss Diana Macdowall, was a great attraction, and exclusive ladies' wear was lent for the occasion by George Straith, Ltd. For play and swim suits the Jantzen Knitting Mills, of Vancouver, sent their latest styles, which were modeled by Misses Mildred Smellie, Pat Williams, Barbara Lane, Jane Clague, Kay Kurt, Denise and Ursula Pottinger, Nancy Kyle and Gloria Tessaro.

Executive Makes Presentation at Oriental Home

The Oriental Home on Cormorant Street was the scene of a farewell gathering on Monday afternoon, when members of the United Church W.M.S. Presbyterial executive and friends called to bid farewell to a group of Japanese children who are being evacuated, and to two members of the staff, Miss Elda Daniels and Miss M. Herbert, who are leaving with them tomorrow for Assiniboia, Saskatchewan, where they will remain for the duration.

Mrs. W. J. Graham, president of the executive, spoke briefly, expressing regret at the enforced departure, but extending all good wishes for a pleasant journey and much happiness in their new surroundings. Others, who also spoke, were Miss Grace Baker, Mrs. Jas. Hood, Mrs. A. Allison and Mrs. H. Thomson. Traveling kits were presented to each child, while Miss Daniels and Miss Herbert also received farewell gifts, Miss Baker making the presentation with the assistance of Mrs. Thomson. The junior girls sang a favorite hymn, and Miss W. H. Muncy expressed the hope that they would write letters from time to time telling of their new experiences. There was a note of sadness at parting as the seventeen girls and one boy said goodbye to the ladies, some of whom had been closely associated with the home for many years.

The children were reported as having had a busy month, when they were entertained by the Junior Auxiliary, Bever Theta Rho Club, the Hardie Circle King's Daughters, and a Brownie pack under Mrs. Boddington. The renovations had been completed. An interesting poster for the linen shower had been made by Violet Clemo and will be displayed in the Irish Linen Store. Grubbiness shows where the sleeper's head has rested . . . where the sheet has been turned down.

Grubby marks lose their stubborn hold with

Sunlight's "EXTRA-SOAPINESS"

ANY soap—bar, powder or flakes—will remove the "all-over" dirt from clothes. But almost everything you wash has certain extra dirty parts which require special treatment to get them really clean. Where sheets have been folded down, where heads have rested on pillow-cases, the collars and cuffs of shirts, smocks and children's clothes—these parts call for Sunlight's "extra soapiness"

Sunlight has a wonderful "extra soapiness" which enables you to get right at the extra dirty parts. Apply it lightly—just a touch of Sunlight and you leave a film of soap right on the dirt. And because it is Sunlight Soap you're using, this thin, soapy film is enough to loosen the last speck of stubborn grime, and the rich Sunlight lather carries it away. That is the Sunlight method of washing — an amazingly effective and safe way of getting clothes spotlessly clean.

You'll find this "extra soapiness" a wonderful help in household cleaning, too. It gets everything spotless in no time. And Sunlight is so pure, it's absolutely safe for hands—keeps them soft and white.

Pattern 4928

Dress to disguise those extra inches—dress to fit your budget, too—make Pattern 4928! It's an exclusive Anne Adams creation, with eye-deceiving bias side sections. They dip below your natural waistline, elongating the bodice and giving you height, and button together cleverly at the neckline. Top-stitching and ric-rac are optional touches —so are the sleeve tabs with button trim; long or three-quarter sleeves may be used instead. For nifty sewing, consult the Sewing Instructor with its illustrated, step-by-step method. This will be your favorite dress for casual wear—so save the pattern to make other attractive versions. A small plaid or checked fabric shows off the bias effect best of all.

Pattern 4928 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. Size 36 takes 3 3-4 yards 35-inch fabric.

Send twenty cents (20c) in coins for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly size, name, address and style number.

ARE UPHOLDING FINE TRADITION

League Told Descendants Maintain Standard Set By Pioneer Women

The women of Canada, in business and the professions, in their homes and in war industries, are worthily maintaining the traditions established by Marie Hebert, the first white woman to land in Canada; by Madeleine de Vercheres, who defended the Vercheres seignory from hostile Indians for eight days, and by Laura Secord, heroine of the War of 1812, Miss Violet Wilson told the Overseas League in the Empress Hotel, Monday.

Speaking on "Some Early Canadian Women," Miss Wilson described the life led by the Indians of the Pacific Coast, their arts and crafts, and the rigid code of etiquette which governed the behavior of all members of the early tribes. She told, too, of the tribulations endured and surmounted by the wives of United Empire Loyalists in their struggle to reach Canada and establish homes in this country.

POEM IS READ

Miss Wilson, who replaced Mrs. Nellie McClung as the club's speaker, was thanked by Lady Burdon, O.B.E. Mrs. A. G. MacDonald, secretary of the Overseas League, read a poem written by Mrs. McClung, who was prevented by illness from attending the meeting.

Mrs. MacDonald reported that the Overseas League sent $84.70 to London during April contributing $40 also to the cigarette fund, $10 to the entertainment fund, and $40 to the Lord Mayor's Fund. Since January 1, $468.52 has been sent to London, together with woolen goods worth $187.63 and clothing to the value of $82.25. In the period, four tons of clothing were sent to Great Britain.

MANY ARTICLES MADE

Mrs. A. G. Darrell, speaking for the knitting group, acknowledged the assistance of the Women's Auxiliary to the cathedral and the Women's Guild of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. One hundred and sixty-three articles for the crews of mine sweepers, eighty-two pairs of socks, fifteen jumpers, nine scarves, six helmets and six pairs of gloves, together with seventeen pairs of mitts, sixteen caps, some bed socks and a large afghan are now en route overseas.

Sir Robert Holland, K.C.I.E., presided in the absence of President Arthur L. Darrell.

RATIONING SWEETS

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—Food Minister Lord Woolton announced today that chocolates and other candies will be rationed, starting July 27. A new personal ration book will be issued to facilitate distribution.

PROVIDE OWN ALARMS

VANCOUVER, May 5 (CP).—W. C. Mainwaring, Provincial air raids precaution chief, announced today that operators of industrial plants and those engaged in war production are responsible for providing their own air raid alarm system for the protection of their employees.

BOOK SERVICE HAS BIG TASK

Eleven Thousand Volumes Collected for Distribution Since Inception

Operating on Vancouver Island and in other ways, the War Services Library sent out more than 8,000 books to the three armed services and the merchant service last year, and has prepared 3,000 volumes for distribution already this year, it was announced yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. W. T. Straith, K.C., M.P.P., is chairman of the central library committee, and Miss Marjorie Holmes is director.

A committee of volunteer librarians, working in conjunction with the Provincial and City Libraries, the I.O.D.E. and other organizations collects the books from many sources, and arranges for their distribution to libraries serving military, naval, air force and the merchant services. While the collection of books is brisk, the appeal for good reading is being stressed by those in charge of the work.

Acknowledgment was paid to the I.O.D.E., the Auxiliary Services officers, Spencer's Book Shop, naval auxiliaries and other agencies for help and co-operation in connection with the War Services Library. The output in books is still growing, it was stated.

NO. 123—EIGHTY-FOURTH YEAR — VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA, WEDNESDAY, MAY 6, 1942

Glancing Over Sport

By JOE DELAHUNTY

CURTAINS WILL RISE

Elaborate preparations have been made for the 1942 debut of lacrosse and baseball. They will make their initial bow to the supporting public this week, the boxla sport on Friday night at the Sports Centre at the Willows, and the baseballers will open on Saturday at the Athletic Park with a double-header being featured. Indications on both battle-fronts point to keener competition this season, as new teams and many new faces will be showing for the first time.

Ted Menzies has his James Bay stickhandlers, 1941 British Columbia intermediate champions, all geared up for another fling at the title, and he will send them against the United Services in the first game at the Willows on Friday evening. True, he has lost four main cogs from his smooth-working machine of last year, but he has picked up several replacements and feels confident that the boys will be in the thick of the running from the start. According to reports from Esquimalt, United Services will be fielding a strong and well-balanced club against the Bays, and they will let all their big guns go the first night in an effort to start the schedule on the right foot. It should be a fast, close-checking affair, and therefore the spectators are promised one thing, and that's plenty of action.

Switching the scene to the Athletic Park on Saturday, the lovers of the diamond pastime should be sitting in on two good ball games. Eagles, winners of the pennant last year, will meet the Royal Canadian Air Force in the afternoon attraction, while Pitzer & Nex take on the Victoria Machinery Depot in the nightcap. The teams will march on the field in the first game to the tune of the Royal Canadian Navy Band and will form a "V" for victory symbol down the third and first base lines. Other opening ceremonies will then take place, after which the umpire will bellow at the top of his voice: "Play ball."

"This should be one of the best baseball seasons we have had around here for years. Every club in the circuit has a good chance of winning the pennant. Reports from Work Point, the Naval Barracks and Patricia Bay show that these services have assembled strong clubs, while the civilian teams from the V.M.D., Eagles and Pitzer & Nex are strong. We expect a mighty close six-team race all Summer, and we promise the public a much better brand of ball than they have witnessed since the revival of the game here several seasons ago," stated President Bill Cull yesterday when asked about the league's prospects.

ODDS AND ENDS

Golfers from all parts of the Island will be gathering at the Uplands course during the Summer to compete in the annual Matson Trophy, emblematic of the Vancouver Island handicap championship. Officials of the entertaining club are already predicting a big entry for the event. The same links will also be the scene of the city championship this year. It will be played under the same rules as last year, thirty-six holes medal play on successive Sundays. . . . Whirlaway will have a chance to increase his lifetime winnings on the turf today when he goes to the post in the $20,00 added Dixie Handicap. Whirly is reported in fine condition and will be the strong favorite when the field lines up. . . . Do you know that several well-known big-time hockey players are heading for British Columbia these days? Most of them are looking for work in the shipyards here and on the Mainland. Pat Egan, big, bruising defenceman of the New York Americans, is already holding down a job in the North Vancouver yards. He is playing lacrosse for the Norvans and will most likely be wearing their hockey uniform next season. Art Somers, former member of the New York Rangers and Chicago Black Hawks, was in the city over the week-end looking over the situation. Art is through as an active player, but he's a mighty good coach and that's what some of these Coast teams really need. . . . Remember when Ty Cobb got six hits in six trips to the plate at St. Louis sixteen years ago yesterday. The "Georgia Peach," who retired from baseball in 1928 with ninety major league records to his credit, hit three home runs, a double and two singles in Detroit's 14-8 victory over the Browns. . . . The entry list for the City Softball League shows that there will be a senior division operating after all and three clubs will be going after the honors. The Navy, Longshoremen and Douglas Tire are the clubs, and there is some talk that the Royal Canadian Air Force will enter to make it a four-team circuit. . . . That Preakness race on Saturday at Pimlico track should be a honey. In fact, it's practically a renewal of last week's Kentucky Derby. There's a horse going to the barrier by the name of Colchis, who has a fine record so far this season. He is capable of outrunning such great horse flesh as Shut Out, Requested, Devil Diver, Alsab, Valdina Orphan and the other candidates, so just keep an eye on this speedster if he faces the starter.

VICTORIA WEST TO OPEN GREENS

By W. H. YOUHILL

Members of the Victoria West Lawn Bowling Club have ample justification for their optimism respecting the activities for the coming season of the well-known organization which caters to the enjoyment of those residing on the west side of this city, and who have a fondness for "bowling on the green." The writer, on a visit to the west side yesterday afternoon, became thoroughly convinced that, in all respects, the devotees of the game in that district should experience their most enjoyable, as well as successful, season in the history of the game in that section of Victoria.

During the Winter season, two new greens were added to the south side of the plant, an improvement which will add materially to the successful carrying out of the programme, which will be decided upon within the next few days. As is usual at this time of the year, the grass of the lawns has had ample time to become ready for use, and with the care with which it is being treated at present, the optimism of those in charge is fully guaranteed.

President C. Fairall and Secretary T. Guest have been assiduous, during the past few days, caring for the interests of the membership of the club, so that Victoria West lawn bowlers may rest assured that the coming season should equal, if not exceed, all of its predecessors.

A meeting will be held on May 15 to adopt a constitution and make other preparations for the season. Meanwhile, members will meet at 6 p.m. Friday at Six-Mile House, where a range will be constructed.

Membership in the club will be open to persons sixteen years of age or over, who are interested in rifle marksmanship. Those desiring further information should telephone Mr. Moore at E 2385.

Vancouver Boeings Here Saturday for Exhibition Soccer

ROYAL Air Force footballers are all keyed up over their coming fixture here Saturday afternoon with Vancouver Boeings, Mainland Cup finalists. The British flyers have been anxious for outside competition for many weeks and since the arrival of a number of Old Country professionals are quite confident of making a good showing against the Mainlanders. The match will be played at Macdonald Park at 3 o'clock. R.A.F. line-up follows: Woodbridge; Witham, Sedman; Chapman, Hurd, Hughes; Huggins, Boulter, Hall, Mundy and Martin. Subs.: Heppenstall, Adams and Houston.

Veteran Captain Receives Dominion Trophy

CHUCK Chapman, veteran guard and captain of the Victoria Dominoes, is caught by an Eastern cameraman receiving congratulations and the handsome Montreal Sportsmen's Cup from Doug Roberts, an official of the Canadian Amateur Basketball Association, at the conclusion of the fourth and final game of the national final in Montreal last Saturday. As everyone knows the Dominoes won the title by taking three games to one, thereby making it the first time in history that a Victoria club has captured the silverware away from home. It marked the second time since the club was organized back in 1935-36 that it has carried off the Dominion crown, the first triumph being against Windsor here in 1938-39 at the Sports Centre. The other two Domino players in the picture are Don Woodhouse, one of this season's rookie stars, and Norm Baker, the high-scoring blond-headed forward, who tossed home a lot of valuable points during the trip across the continent. The team will return home either tomorrow or Friday, it all depends if they stay off in Winnipeg for an extra day.

WOMEN BOWLERS HOLD GATHERING

Members of the Women's Lawn Bowler's Fivepin Bowling League gathered the other evening at the Mayfair to attend their first annual presentation of prizes and supper. A large number turned out and the evening was a gay and successful affair. The ladies wound up the party at the home of Mrs. E. Myers where seven tables of cards held sway.

Prizes were presented to Ruth Mercer for high average of 186, Isa Milliken for being runner-up with 168, Mrs. M. Wallace for high three-game total of 687. President Mrs. Myers and the various team captains were presented with corsages, while Mrs. Mercer was the recipient of a cigarette lighter. The Burnside Busters won the league honors with the following personnel, Mrs. A. Stewart, Mrs. E. Stewart, Mrs. A. Wallace, Mrs. E. Wallace and Mrs. N. Wallace. Invincibles finished second with Mrs. A. Pass, Mrs. R. Mercer, Mrs. D. Miller, Mrs. W. Peddle and Mrs. W. Peden. Third place honors went to the Bomberettes with Mrs. Blackstock, I. Milliken, L. Waters, G. Halkala and Mrs. Davidson.

GAME ASSOCIATION WILL MEET FRIDAY

Opening dates, seasons and bag limits on "Uplands Game Birds" will be the feature event on the agenda at Friday's meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association at the Chamber of Commerce.

The short business session will be followed by the showing of the latest motion pictures on salmon fishing and other items of interest to sportsmen.

MOVES SECRETLY

LONDON, May 5 (CP)—Lord Beaverbrook, who has been in Washington on a special mission, arrived at a Southwest British port this morning while members of the House of Commons were asking where he was. Clement Attlee, Dominions Secretary, had told questioners he did not know his whereabouts.

Veteran French Is Star in Brooklyn's Win Over St. Louis

Old-Time Pitcher Bats National League Champions to 3-1 Victory in Eleventh Frame—Reds Beat Giants, 2-1—Indians Trimmed Again —DiMaggio Hits Pair of Homers

By The Canadian Press

Lefty Larry French, the thirty-three-year-old veteran whom Brooklyn Dodgers almost cut adrift during their Florida training, pitched and batted the National League champions to a 3-1 eleven-inning triumph over St. Louis Cardinals yesterday.

Working against the newest southpaw sensation of the senior circuit, twenty-one-year-old Howard Pollet, the crafty French kept the Cardinals to four scattered hits and would have had a shutout except for an error by Billy Herman in the eighth inning.

French himself drove in the first run of the game with a single in the seventh and when the hitter duel ran into overtime, French again came through with a single to drive in the run that broke the tie in the eleventh.

Jimmy Wallace, a tiny, apple-cheeked boy with a winning smile and a pretzel curve, made his bow as a big league hurler for Boston Braves—and did a man-sized chore of throttling Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-1, on six widely scattered hits.

The Braves blasted three Pirate hurlers for sixteen hits in an assault which settled the game as early as the second inning with a two-run outburst. Old Paul Waner, for years a Pirate, popped out four hits to lead the Braves' hitters.

HITS WIN COLUMN

Bucky Walters broke into the victory column for the first time this year as Cincinnati Reds nosed out New York Giants 2-1 in the tenth inning to end a pitching struggle between Walters and Hal Schumacher. Each hurler allowed only five hits, but three of the Reds' came in succession in the tenth and it was Bucky who set off the winning rally.

Johnny Podgajny, always a Chicago Cub nemesis, whipped the Bruins again, 4-2. The triumph gave Philadelphia Phils the National League series two games to one. Podgajny yielded ten hits, one more than Claude Passeau allowed, but kept the Cub blows well scattered. Meantime, the Phillies took advantage of five bases on balls, three errors and five stolen bases in their run making.

Rookie Russ Christopher, drafted from a Yankee farm, pitched a three-hitter in his first major league start to give Philadelphia Athletics a 2-1 victory over Detroit Tigers. The defeat allowed Christopher's former employers to move into second place in the American League, replacing Detroit. Dizzy Trout, on the mound for the Tigers, was nicked for seven hits.

SMACKS TWO HOMERS

Joe DiMaggio boosted New York Yankees into second place in the American League with two home runs and a triple that brought a 5-1 ten-inning triumph over Chicago White Sox. DiMaggio was ably supported by young Hank Borowy, who gave a glittering relief performance in holding the Sox to one hit and fanning seven in seven and one-third innings. It was the Sox' twelfth loss in thirteen games and their ninth setback by one run.

Bob Harris limited Washington to five hits but his fellow Browns supported him feebly and the Senators captured a 5-3 American League decision over St. Louis as Early Wynn checked the visitors with eight hits. Wynn's single with the bases loaded and two out in the sixth drove in the two runs that won the game.

Boston Red Sox bombarded a trio of Cleveland pitchers for eighteen hits and a total of twenty-eight bases while sweeping their three-game series with the American League-leading Indians with a 13-3 triumph.

The Indians, who have been jittery since the Sockers broke their thirteen-game winning streak, again were ragged afield and made four errors, which gave them a total of nine for the series.

Ted Williams led the Boston attack by getting a single, after beating out a bunt against the flat-footed Cleveland infielders, a double and his sixth homer of the season.

Three of Turfdom's Great Campaigners Are Running Today

Whirlaway, Challedon and Mioland Facing Barrier in $20,000 Added Dixie Handicap at Pimlico Track—Eleven Listed to Go—Whirly Will Be Packing Top Weight

BALTIMORE, May 5 (CP)—Whirlaway, Challedon and Mioland—three of turfdom's great campaigners—were named today to meet for the first time in the same race in old Pimlico's $20,000 added Dixie Handicap tomorrow.

This meeting of the handicap division's kingpins in the thirty-eighth renewal of Pimlico's richest fixture for older horses adds lustre to the Dixie and temporarily takes the play away from the candidates for Saturday's $50,000 added Preakness Stakes.

Eight others were named to contest the mile-and-three-sixteenth issue with the "big three" whose combined earnings total $921,211. All told, the Dixie's field of eleven has earned well over $1,000,000.

Whirlaway to date has picked up $352,536 for Owner Warren Wright and is third on the list of all-time money winners. Challedon has won $332,860 for W. L. Brann and is fifth on the list, while Mioland has collected $235,815 for C. S. Howard.

Others entered overnight were John L. Sullivan's Air Master, E. G. Hackney's Sir Alfred, H. C. Hatch's Filisteo, Col. E. R. Bradley's Best Seller, Brann's Pictor, Greentree Stable's Century Note, Mrs. Parker Corning's Attention, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's Impound.

Whirlaway is top weight of the field with 128 pounds. Mioland will carry 126. An impost of 124 pounds was assigned to Challedon and to Attention, remembered for his upset of Whirlaway in the Arlington classic last year.

INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR

BALTIMORE, May 5 (CP)—An international flavor was given to the fifty-second running of the Preakness Stakes with the announcement that Louis B. Mayer's Domingo would arrive tomorrow to keep his engagement in the $69,000 added race.

The English-bred refugee qualified for the Preakness by winning by seventh lengths at Jamaica yesterday. It was his first victory in four attempts, but Domingo stepped the mile and one-sixteenth in an impressive 1:44 1-4.

Domingo's arrival will make the Preakness colony complete. Alsab, Valdina Orphan, Requested, Fairy Manah and Colchis got in today. Shut Out, the Kentucky Derby winner; his stablemate, Devil Diver; Apache, Fair Call and Sun Again were on the grounds already.

August (Sarge) Swenke, who trains for Al Sabath's Alsab, said he ran a "wonderful race" to be second in the Derby. "Alsab didn't get there," Swenke said, "but he'll get there yet." Basil James will ride Alsab again in the Preakness.

The status of Warren Wright's Sun Again was still unsettled. Trainer Ben Jones said he would delay a decision on starting Sun Again in the Preakness until after the colt works out tomorrow morning.

Red Cross Work In Peacetime Is Still Important

While it is only natural that the stupendous wartime tasks so effectively handled by the Canadian Red Cross are attracting most attention at this time, one should never forget that the wonderful peacetime work of this organization still goes on. The Red Cross has not forgotten its responsibilities to Canadians for peacetime services.

Its outpost hospitals continue to provide medical and public health services in isolated communities. Fifty-four of these institutions were operated throughout Canada last year at a cost of $503,777. They treated 42,236 patients, performed 5,710 operations and in these hospitals 2,027 babies were born last year.

Traveling medical and dental clinics treated a total of 42,012 patients. Red Cross nurses examined 21,820 children on visits to schools in outlying districts.

This highly efficient service, inaugurated by the Red Cross immediately after the last war, through sparsely settled areas in Canada goes steadily on and grows apace. Home nursing and first aid courses are conducted; nurses are enrolled for emergency services; highway first aid posts are maintained.

Eleven mobile surgical units are stationed on the two seaboards, equipped for twenty-four-hour operations when needed. Recently a special committee has developed a twenty-five-bed emergency hospital which can be packed in suitable cases. A number of these units are to be placed in the Maritime Provinces where they can be easily and quickly transported to the scene of trouble.

The campaign to replenish the Canadian Red Cross funds starts on May 11. Victorians are being asked to subscribe $90,000.

LIVED IN CEMETERY

MERIDAN, Miss., May 5 (AP).—A forty-year-old negro woman, found making her home in an empty tomb in one of the city's most fashionable white cemeteries, is in jail. County officers, who arrested her, said she had been sleeping and eating in the vault, made vacant when a body was moved to another cemetery. She washed and hung out her clothes regularly among the graves, they said.

Paper is now being manufactured from waste products of the cotton industry—hulls and shavings from the cotton gins are being used in this new process.

WOMAN WORKER ALL MIXED UP

Gets Job in Shipyard to Help War Effort — Finds Not Wanted

Ethel Harvey, 28 Douglas Street, acetylene welder, shuffled out of her overalls Monday night after her first shift in the shipyards, and confessed her ideas on the war effort were "all mixed up."

She had just finished her course a few days before, and when she started work Monday morning, it had given her keen satisfaction to think she was helping to fill in where she had been told the demand for skilled workers was acute.

Everything went along fine until afternoon, when a short, well dressed and aggressive man interrupted her work with the curt announcement that he "wanted to have a talk with her."

SURPRISED AT INTERRUPTION

Not a little surprised at the interruption—she had been told that every minute had to count if Canada was to keep up her vital work of turning out ships—she set aside her torch and listened—with amazement at first, then with anger.

Later she told reporters about the interview.

"I guess he was an organizer. He told me I'd have to quit and get out. He said I was under-cutting the other welders. He said there were lots of skilled men out of work, and unless I gave up my job the rest of the welders would be called off the job."

"I told him that as far as I knew I was working for standard wages, doing a man's job with no favors shown and with no preference given to me.

"I told him that for months—long before I started to learn the trade—I'd been reading about the shortage of men in essential war industries. I told him that's why I was here. And I told him I intended to stay."

CONTINUES AT WORK

Mrs. Harvey continued at her work yesterday despite threats of the organizer that unless she quit all men welders would walk out.

"I'm not doing any man out of a job," she said. "I don't have to work and will gladly quit as soon as my employers ask me to. This is my war effort and I am proving that women can do this type of work satisfactorily."

Mrs. Harvey and her husband operated a farm at Shawnigan Lake until a few months ago. She learned electric arc welding in a school here and applied to a local yard for employment when told that welders were wanted.

"So far as I know I am being paid the same scale as men," she said last night. "I have a small room of my own to work in. The men in the yard are exceptionally courteous and I could ask for no better treatment.

"I'm sorry the union agent has taken a stand against women welders but I don't intend to quit until my employers ask me to. I haven't been asked to join the union yet. That would be the solution, I guess, to women welders. Meanwhile I'm standing pat and doing my work."

TWO NAZIS FLEE CAMP IN ONTARIO

Disappearance of War Prisoners Discovered When Night Roll Call Taken

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., May 5 (CP).—Two Nazi prisoners escaped tonight from the prison camp here but at a late hour authorities were unable to give any description of the men.

The escape was discovered at the night roll call and officials immediately began a check of the prisoners to determine who was missing.

Meantime a search of the district was begun for the two—the second pair to escape from the camp in less than a month.

Lieut. Erich Boehle and Lieut. Hans Peter Krug made their getaway from the camp near Lake Ontario on April 16 but both have been recaptured. Boehle's freedom was short—he was picked up a few days later in Niagara Falls, N.Y.—but Krug roamed 3,000 miles over the United States before being recaptured at San Antonio, Texas, last Friday.

HIGH SCHOOLS AID EMPLOYER

Are in Position to Select Most Suitable Employees, Principal Explains

High schools in recent years have concentrated on training students for vocational work and are now in a position to assist employers in selecting young men and women best suited for their requirements, Harry Smith, principal of Victoria High School, said in an address at the Kiwanis Club yesterday in the Empress Hotel.

Mr. Smith spoke on "Utilizing Our Youth Resources," and said that school and community life are now closely inter-related, with the school a community institution developed to meet the needs of the students.

He was introduced by H. L. Campbell, municipal schools inspector, who said "Mr. Smith's services were highly appreciated in the conduct of that very large school of more than 1,000 young people."

SCHOOL HELPS EMPLOYERS

Notwithstanding the opinion to the contrary held by a few employers, the high school is in the best position to give efficient placement service, Mr. Smith said.

"Schools have accurate and detailed records of students' character and ability," he explained.

With a steadily growing library of vocational information as a nucleus of a placement system, they are ready at all times to assist employers seeking employees.

Suggest Forces Use Trucks for Fuel Collection

At a meeting Monday night, Oak Bay District Conservative Association passed a resolution suggesting that the Minister of National Defence, as a means of alleviating the fuel situation here, order the supply departments of the armed forces to collect their fuel in service transport trucks from fuel dealers.

The association suggested that the fuel should not be delivered as at present, "with the dealers' lessened scale of transport and their difficulties over wages." It also endorsed the proposals of local fuel merchants in these particulars. The resolution was forwarded to Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, and a copy to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Victoria's representative in the House of Commons.

A committee was formed to consider the question of establishing a Young Conservative Association, so as to enable the parent body to profit by the views of Canada's young people now and at the expiration of the war. The committee will report to the next meeting of the association, which will be held June 1.

New Ferry Boat Will Operate on Inter-City Run

On or about the middle of June, the Puget Sound Navigation Company will place the eighteen-knot ferry steamer Malahat, renamed after Vancouver Island's famous scenic highway, on the run between Victoria and Port Angeles, according to an announcement by Leslie Pelling, manager of the Pauln Travel Bureau, agent for the steamship company.

The Malahat is the former Napa Valley, which at one time plied around San Francisco Bay between the "City," Vallejo and Mare Island navy yard. She was purchased in the South by the Black Ball Line, and was towed to Seattle. She was built in 1910 and is capable of accommodating eighty automobiles and 1,000 passengers. She will replace the steamer Olympic.

The new ferry vessel for the Port Angeles-Victoria run is at present tied up at Seattle, and is one of a fleet of twenty-four vessels now operated by the Puget Sound Navigation Company.

SEVEN INSTEAD OF FIVE EVENTS

Capacity Crowds Make Possible Extra Attractions at Royal Victoria Theatre

Expansion in their subscription series from five events to seven events in 1942-43 has been announced by Hilker Attractions. This increase in the number of world-famous attractions playing Victoria has been made possible by the capacity audiences which have attended the shows during the past season.

The series is composed of distinguished artists and is of a scope never before attempted in this city in one season. This great programme is offered to the public under the subscription ticket plan, which gives patrons first choice of the best locations, protects these same locations for them throughout the season and affords a major saving in cost.

Opening the series in October is the most spectacular and sensational event of the series, Carman Amaya and her group of gypsy dancers and singers, featuring the famous gypsy guitarist, Tibicas. Acknowledged throughout Europe and South America as the world's greatest flamenko dancer, Carman Amaya beats out the primitive rhythms learned as a child in the caves which the gypsies inhabit outside Grenada.

Returning again in answer to insistent demand, the ever popular Don Cossack chorus, under their diminutive conductor, Serge Jaroff, will be seen in late November.

Mid-January brings to Victoria the foremost Russian ballet company in the world today, the Ballet Theatre, starring Baronova, Dolin, Markova and many others. The great company of 125, including symphony orchestra, will appear for one day only, presenting many new ballets never before seen here.

Following the ballet with only a few days interval, will come the beloved tenor star of opera, concert and radio, Richard Crooks.

Golden-voiced Marian Anderson is coming to Victoria in early February. The world's greatest contralto continues to reach even loftier pinnacles of achievement, even when it appears that she has reached the greatest heights possible.

In early March comes the attraction, which it is freely prophesied will be the hit of the entire season, the Nine o'Clock Opera Company's presentation of Mozart's rollicking opera, "The Marriage of Figaro." Here at last is opera for Victoria, as it should be presented.

The series terminates in early April with that star of the first magnitude, Josef Hofmann, towering figure of the piano world. Victoria music lovers will undoubtedly be gratified to have this opportunity to hear the great man of the piano.

What Today Means

"TAURUS"

If May 6 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10 a.m. until noon, from 2 to 4 p.m., and from 8 to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 8 to 10 a.m., from 6 to 8 p.m., and from 10 p.m. until midnight.

May 6 will be a good day on which to have more than one string to your bow, especially when planning some social diversion, for if you are forced to cancel the original plans you will be equipped to substitute something else for them. Be prepared to do some quick thinking on this date, for hesitation in making decisions may cause you to suffer disappointment. Should you find yourself in the company of an animal lover on this day remember that in order to retain his favor it probably will be a case of "love me, love my dog," for the owner's pride and loyalty to his pet is apt to be pronounced. Punctilious regard for social usages will be advisable on this day, for both host and guests are apt to be observant and in a humor to criticize severely should there be the slightest excuse for doing so. Married, engaged and courting couples will do well to cater to the likes and dislikes of one another on this day and be prepared to make concessions if there is occasion for them to do so, for temperamental outbursts may disrupt love's serenity in a most disconcerting fashion.

If you are a woman and May 6 is your birthday, a sensitive nature may cause you to suffer keenly whenever you feel that you are being subjected to criticism. Overcome any tendency you have to feel a deep sense of resentment whenever you suspect that you are the subject of a discussion. Make it a rule to turn a deaf ear to people who gossip, particularly those who have a recognized propensity for making trouble. As a restaurant or specialty shop operator, office or sales manager, as well as an interior decorator, artist, musician, actress, writer or singer, you may surprise yourself with the ease with which you will overcome difficulties and achieve success. Through the demonstration of love and loyalty, your marital life should be filled with happiness.

The child born on May 6 will learn in all likelihood early in life, to look after his own interests and have sufficient gumption to stand up for his rights. Born under auspicious conditions, this youngster seems destined to be most fortunate in his future social, business or professional undertakings.

If you are a man and May 6 is your natal day, be good natured and generous and you should make your way through life without difficulty. The admiration and respect of your fellow men is of inestimable value to you, so do all in your power to deserve it. As a doctor, lawyer, pharmacist, chemist, educator, engineer, composer, actor, horticulturist, agriculturist, skilled mechanic, or in the employment of your country, you ought to be able to make an enviable record and achieve financial security.

HEALTH HABIT OF THOUSANDS!
EVERY MORNING, more men and women enjoy a mild, preventive glass of ANDREWS—to help avoid eliminative upsets and to step out feeling fit!
DON'T BLAME your bowels alone for those frequent, common upsets—headache, that dull fagged-out feeling, indigestion, bad breath! True enough, you may be constipated, but other organs besides the bowels are probably also off-key—needing help, and needing it quickly.
So instead of taking a laxative that works only in the bowels, rely on the more thorough, four-way relief of pleasant, sparkling ANDREWS. Drink a glassful at once, and see how quickly you feel better. ANDREWS not only opens the bowels, but helps the kidneys, stimulates the liver and neutralizes excess gastric acid to speed relief and prolong comfort. This famous four-way action means more help in relieving the discomfort of colds, too!
Ask your druggist for ANDREWS. Four-oz. tin, 44¢; 8-oz. tin, 77¢; 10-oz. bottle, 89¢.

ACTUALLY THIS PARTICULAR AD-vertisement is to tempt you to buy the Chesterfield suite, but if you want the group, that's O.K. with us. It includes a 3 x 10.6 Axminster (beige floral ground, colorful floral pattern), a three-shelf end table (walnut) and an attractive round (walnut) coffee table. Now the whole works for $195, and we really did "sharpen our pencil" to make this. The Chesterfield is a honey at $105. Certainly we wouldn't go for the rug, but you just might. FINEST ACREAGE IN OAK BAY

This property comprises three and a-quarter acres, and could be made into at least nine unexpanded homesites. The property is high and slopes to the south with uninterrupted views of the Olympics from the majority of the lots.

There is a fine old home on the estate commanding unparalleled views of the Straits and mountains from almost every room. The house has endless possibilities for the person with vision, and ever so little modernizing would make it into a home of which anyone would be justly proud.

To effect an immediate sale, the absentee owner has now instructed us to offer this property complete for $8500
(a reduction of $2,000), or would sell the house and one acre separately.

We consider this to be one of the finest opportunities we have yet had to offer. We will be pleased to discuss terms and details with any genuine inquiry.

BURNED OUT OF LONDON HOME

Rev. F. J. Scroggie Says Blitzed London to Be Rebuilt as Memorial

Despite his explanation that, as a British subject, he was not eligible for the draft in the United States, United States immigration authorities at Seattle queried Washington about Rev. F. J. Scroggie, with the result that he was unable to fulfil speaking engagements here Sunday.

Rev. Mr. Scroggie arrived in Victoria yesterday to speak this week on the general theme of "Prophecy and World Crises." When he failed to appear Sunday at Central Baptist Church, Rev. Dr. J. B. Rowell had to substitute for him.

Mr. Scroggie explained that anyone in the United States for a period of three months had to obtain a military permit to leave. A Scotsman who was born in London on St Patrick's Day, he was for six years minister of the East London Tabernacle, and also managed Barclays Bank in London while carrying on his clerical duties.

BURNED OUT OF HOME

He was four times burned out of his house in the London "blitz," and lost all his household furniture by fire. Though the auditorium of the East London Tabernacle was destroyed, services are still being held in the church lecture hall. Mr. Scroggie said that the "blitzed" area of London will be rebuilt as a memorial to the Great War.

Plans for rebuilding envisage a wide boulevard from Cheapside to Holborn. Paternoster Row, which is no more, will be incorporated into the beautification scheme. The only building remaining intact in the central area is St. Paul's Cathedral, Mr. Scroggie said.

Never has the morale of the British people been higher than it is now, he added, and all are bearing with great calmness the necessary restrictions upon food and clothing.

The visiting clergyman is a brother of Rev. Graham Scroggie, of Spurgeon's Tabernacle, London.

TROOPS WELL, THANK YOU

LONDON, (CP).—Britain's army is healthier than it has ever been, so much so that a large number of military hospital nurses are being temporarily released to civil hospitals.

AUDITORS REVEAL CITY'S POSITION

Financial Survey Shows Liabilities

Liabilities of the city are $18,514,271.78, including outstanding debentures, relief loans, bank overdraft and better housing debentures, according to the annual report of Ismay, Bolston, Holden & Company filed at the City Hall.

Receipts from all sources, including taxation on land and improvements, were $2,865,097.37, and at the end of last December there was $19,366.22 cash on hand and $282,674.58 represented by cash in the bank and bonds.

The report revealed that the board of debenture retirement fund trustees handled $134,880.19 in cash and securities for debt retirement and $113,995.23 for interest equalization. During the year trustees purchased sufficient City of Victoria debentures to create a gross debt reduction of $166,780.92.

Operations of 1941 also showed $86,000 has been paid off the bank loan, and better housing debentures amounting to $6,000 canceled.

Arrears and delinquent taxes at the end of the year totaled $265,653.08, compared with $372,532.85 on December 31, 1940.

Waterworks accounts receivable were $99,819.08. Profits from the department were $90,453.55.

The auditors pointed out $65,376.78 was due under agreements of sale for land, and better housing act unpaid installments totaled $19,067.86.

Few Gains Made By Key Issues at New York Mart

Twenty rails, 24.61, off .05.
Fifteen utilities, 11.73, off .06.
Total sales, 873,000.

NEW YORK, May 5 (AP).—Irregularly higher tendencies ruled the stock market today, with steels, motors and specialties accounting for recoveries of fractions to a point or more.

Recently buoyant utilities on the big board inclined to waver at the start and rails, aircrafts and coppers were in difficulties the greater part of the time. While plus marks were well distributed at the close, numerous issues finished under water. Dealings were sluggish.

The Associated Press average of sixty stocks was up .2 of a point at 33.6, after being unchanged yesterday.

Transfers totaled 272,900 shares against 259,711 Monday. Of 590 individual stocks traded, 227 were up, 177 down and 186 unchanged.

The British initiative at Madagascar aided sentiment to some extent, brokers said, although the news of war and business generally provided scant speculative or investment inspiration. Bidding, as in the past week, apparently still was based on the belief the list was due to further technical improvement because of its lengthy retreat.

Allied Chemical was up 2 1-2 points on a light turnover. Lesser advances were retained by United States Steel, Bethlehem, National Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, American Can, Du Pont, Philip Morris, Westinghouse, United States Rubber, American Telephone, Standard Oil (N.J.), Armstrong Cork, American Tobacco "B," Oliver Farm and Montgomery Ward.

GUESTS FEW—IF ANY

LONDON, (CP)—Virtually all food is under ration control and most London clubs are limiting the number of guests members may bring for dinner. Some have asked members not to bring guests for meals at all.

SAFE FOR THE NIGHT

On her way to bed the maid looked into her employer's room.

"The master's locked up for the night, ma'am," she said.

Her employer looked puzzled.

"Really, Jane?" she said. He must have been very quiet. I didn't even hear him come in."

"He hasn't, ma'am," exclaimed Jane. "The police station have just 'phoned."

WOMEN'S INSTITUTES

BRENTWOOD

A no-hostess May day bridge was held at the Brentwood Women's Institute hall recently. The room was attractive with Spring flowers and guests were given small colonial corsage bouquets. The prizes were won by Mrs. G. Williams, Mrs. Vallcott and Mrs. Anderson. The quilt, drawn during the tea hour, was won by Mrs. T. B. Rice. The proceeds will go to the Solarium.

LAKE HILL

The monthly meeting of Lake Hill Institute was held on Monday afternoon, in the Institute room, with a good attendance, Mrs. E. Glover presiding. Miss Ruth Wilkinson, of the Saanich Nursing Service, was the guest speaker, outlining the growth of baby clinics and their value to the community. A report was given of a successful dance held in aid of A.R.P. supplies and thanks were expressed to the artists who arranged the floor show, and all who assisted. Mrs. Myles displayed small trays, containers and bandages which she had assembled and two more quilts were received. A quilting bee was arranged for May 20, at 2 p.m.

LONDON, May 5 (CP).—The Rome radio described tonight the British landing at Madagascar as "an act of banditry." It said: "The approval of the United States is another example of the gangster mentality with which Mr. Roosevelt conceives international law."

PIONEER SOCIETY HOLDS BANQUET

Annual Gathering of Old-Timers Of Saanich Takes Place at Log Cabin

Nearly 100 people were present at the Pioneer Society annual banquet held at the Log Cabin, Saanichton, on Saturday evening. Councillor L. Hagan, president, welcomed the guests. The hall was decorated with Spring flowers and the tables were laden with good things to eat, prepared by the ladies of the pioneer organization. During the evening G. T. Michell, president of the North and South Saanich Agricultural Association, presented to Mr. and Mrs. R. Nimmo a walnut coffee table. This gift was given jointly by the Pioneer Society and the North and South Saanich Agricultural Association in appreciation of the excellent and active work of Mr. and Mrs. Nimmo in both organizations. Mrs. Nimmo has been the convener for the ladies' committee for many years, while Mr. Nimmo has been secretary-treasurer for the Pioneer Society since its inception. Mrs. Nimmo also received a corsage bouquet from the old friends of the two organizations.

After dinner an enjoyable time was spent in telling stories and reminiscenses of the early days in Saanich. Decendants of four generations were present, all of whom had lived in Saanich. Many other old-timers of Saanich were present.
